Community Chest Campaign Starts In City Monday Morning

Raise Total In Advanced Gift Drive Friday

Workers Report $3,000 Additional At Meeting Held Last Evening

PLANS ARE LAID FOR GENERAL DRIVE

Elaborate Preparations Made For Opening Of Intensive Campaign Monday

With over $3,000 additional reported in Advanced Gifts last evening, this phase of the campaign has netted Community Chest workers $29,330, according to the report made at the meeting held last evening in the P. and O. lecture rooms.

At the same time, plans were laid for the general campaign which will open Monday morning, when the workers will assemble for their breakfast at The Castleton at 8 o'clock. This meal will be held by the individual workers themselves, and after a morning of hustling they will meet again at the Y. W. C. A. for their first report.

Several Hundred Workers, all of whom are enthusiastic in their endeavor to end the campaign on October 10, the time allotted for the culmination of the drive, will take the field at this time.

In preparation for the opening of the campaign, the workers will be reminded of the task ahead of them by several special features. Buglers will be stationed at strategic points throughout the city Sunday evening, and at 10 o'clock will awaken the evening echoes with their blasts.

Start Monday Morning

At 7 o'clock Monday morning, all church bells in the city will be rung, following which the buglers will again sound off, blowing reveille.

The workers will assemble promptly at 8 o'clock Monday morning at The Castleton, where the final information on the campaign will be imparted.

There was a good crowd in attendance at the meeting last evening, and a short snappy session was held, when the prospect cards were given out, and the campaign briefly outlined.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Close to a half-dozen ardent baseball games, who had almost forgotten there was no game Friday, or else did not know, stood around in front of The News office for quite a while waiting for the broadcast of a game. Alas, there was none.

Pa Newc observed a most brilliant episode on the streets Friday. It was a Ford of the old Model T type, with the body painted red, and the upper part a bright blue.

Never saw such neatly packed bricks as were in a truck going down Washington street the other day. The bricks sat row on row and straw was placed between each one.

Pa Newc believes he speaks for Mr. and Mrs. Public when he says the new score board at Taggart field certainly serves well. The board, so located that it can be seen from every seat in the stadium or bleachers is illuminated. The figures are visible at a great distance.

One Ne-Ca-Hi grad of some ten years back was surprised at the student pep during the game last night. He says it's the first time in years that he's seen so much enthusiasm. Keep it up.

Most of the registration booths were kept busy today, the weather being just right for a heavy turnout. Final opportunity to register to vote this

Daily Weather Report

Weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at nine o'clock this morning are as follows:
Maximum temperature 66.
Minimum temperature 37.
No precipitation.
River stage 43 feet.

GOOD WEATHER FOR THIRD SERIES' GAME

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—Ideal baseball weather appeared in prospect for the third game of the world series to be played by the Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Cardinals this afternoon at Sportsman's Park.

Although the official forecast was "mostly cloudy and showers probable" for this section an early sun peeped out reassuringly and it appeared that the opening of the series in St. Louis would be favored by the weatherman. The day was still, with just a whisper of a breeze and an Indian summer temperature in the seventies appeared likely to mean the necessity of top coats.

Football Scores

Final football scores of college games today will be bulletined at The News Office on North Meyer street, as soon as received following the games this afternoon.

For reports of the scores over the phone, observe the following schedule of calls to The News:
Call 4000 until 5 o'clock.
Call 22 or 4024 from 5 to 6:30 o'clock.

Cornerstone To Be Laid Sunday

Program To Take Place At St. Lucy's Church Site In Seventh Ward

MANY VISITING PRIESTS TO ATTEND

Sunday afternoon, October 5th will be an epochal day in the history of St. Lucy's Church in the seventh ward. At 3:30 o'clock, the cornerstone of the new church will be laid at North Cedar street and Wabash avenues, and the formal beginning of a new, bigger, St. Lucy's will have been made.

The cornerstone laying exercises will be in charge of Rev. S. Ippolito, pastor of the church, with Rev. Fr. Herman A. Seidel, pastor of St. Mary's church of Beaver Falls, dean of the Beaver and Lawrence County Catholic District, laying the stone.

Many Visiting Priests
Priests of the churches of New Castle will assist in the happy ceremony, with visiting priests from several counties present as guests. The membership of St. Lucy's will undoubtedly be fully represented, along with hundreds of other people who are interested in the progress of the church.

The present site of St. Lucy's church is on South Liberty street, a frame building and was dedicated by Rev. Fr. N. De Mita in 1912. Through the earnest efforts of the pastors who have served, the membership has been increased and the work enlarged until now the old building is inadequate.

Two Meet Death As Autos Crash

(International News Service)
LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Oct. 4.—Two men were dead today and two others were suffering injuries as the result of an automobile collision at the Memorial bridge near Renovo last night.

Reed Beck, 38, of Emporium, was instantly killed when the car in which he was riding was driven into a bridge abutment by the car of Charles Weaver, Big Run. Weaver was fatally injured in the crash.

Edward Garner, 19, of Renovo received a fractured leg and a punctured lung, and Charles Haas also received a lung puncture. Both are in a serious condition at a hospital here.

SPARE TIRE STOLEN

Spare tire, tube and rim on the automobile of Dr. F. E. Eakin, 4423 Court street, was stolen last night, while the machine was parked near the Taggart Field Stadium and while the owner was watching the football game.

Gangster Names Lingle's Slayer And Accomplices

"Ted" Geisking, Alleged To Be Man Who Fired Bullet That Killed Reporter

NOTORIOUS TRAUM GANG IMPLICATED

Lingle Collected For Protection And Then Failed To Keep His Contract

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Three members of Chicago's notorious Traum gang stood accused today of plotting and executing the bold slaying of Alfred "Jake" Lingle, racketeer reporter, following the surprise confession of Frank H. Bell, bandit and two-time graduate of Leavenworth penitentiary. Bell went before a hastily-summoned coroner's jury last night and confessed driving the automobile which carried the Chicago Tribune reporter's killers to the mouth of the Randolph street pedestrian subway where Lingle was put on the "spot" in broad daylight June 9 last.

Drove Death Car.
Declaring that he drove the death car, the ex-convict said he was accompanied by Joe Traum, the Indiana gang leader, and Richard Sullivan, both veterans of Leavenworth. A death scene they met a man who resembled the picture of Ted Geisking, Traum gangster captured in Louisville, Ky., and now under arrest in Indiana, Bell said.

The gang was to have received $10,000 in cash for the slaying, but they never collected the fee, Bell told the jurors. Bell was arrested for the slaying of Christ Patras, cafe owner who was to have paid the $10,000 for Lingle's murder, but refused. Patras, according to Bell, was the agent of Jack Zuta, north side gang leader slain later at a Wisconsin summer resort for his part in the reporter's death.

Patras refused to pay for the killing and Sullivan and "Bell shot him dead, Bell said.

Sullivan was identified in the slaying.

North Braddock Man Is Slain By Gangster Bullets

Two Others Seriously Wounded And Woman Believed Fatally Shot By Machine Gunners

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—One man was killed, two others seriously wounded and a woman probably fatally hurt today when "machine gun" killers invaded a small fruit store in the Italian quarter of North Braddock, a suburb, and unleashed a deadly spray of the leaden slugs according to reports telephoned to Pittsburgh police headquarters.

First reports failed to identify the dead and injured.

According to excited reports from the suburb a high powered automobile sped into North Braddock this morning and came to a halt before the fruit store. Two men, one carrying a machine gun of the shoulder type, entered the shop and without warning sprayed the interior of the little store with a volley of machine gun bullets.

No motive for the reported shooting was learned. Police believed the proprietor of the store might have incurred the wrath of racketeering leaders by failing to pay tribute and that the shooting came in retaliation for his refusal.

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct. 4.—Mr. Hoover went out to Cleveland Thursday and spoke before the bankers. I liked his speech. He didn't beat around the bush about anything.

He just came right out in the opening paragraph and said we was doing pretty "mangy" (of course, he might have suspected that we had already found it out).

He said if we could afford to live through it, things would get better. That advice was directed to younger men.

He read a lot of statistics there that was mighty encouraging. They told how poor some fifteen or twenty other countries were doing. I had no idea that Ecuador was as bad off as Oklahoma, but it is. So before you complain, think of Peru.

Greatest Mobilization Of Peace Time Army Taking Place In Boston Today

FAMOUS AIRMEN PUT ON "SHOW"

President Hoover Will Be Principal Speaker Before Annual Convention

International News Service Staff Correspondent
BOSTON, Oct. 4.—"Welcome Buddies, the town is yours."

This was the oyerword today as the greatest mobilization of a peace time army, 200,000 strong, continued to trek here for the 12th annual convention of the American Legion.

Registration of upwards of 50,000 Legionnaires 48 hours before the opening of the convention; relief work among veterans and their widows and aid for those unemployed sounded as the keynote of the convention by National Commander O. L. Bodenhamer; completion of plans for the welcome to President Herbert Hoover on Monday, the assignment of a huge police and cadet corps guard; opening of unofficial activities by delegates, and the hourly arrival by air, train, automobile and even on foot of Legionnaires and convention visitors marked the pre-convention hours.

MATE MISSING, WOMAN ENDS LIFE WITH GUN

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Oct. 4.—As a tragic sequel to the mysterious disappearance, last January 16, of her husband, Louis F. Neil, gasoline station proprietor, his wife, Mrs. Ida M. Neil, 56, was found dead in her home, 1407 Fourth avenue, with a gunshot wound through the heart, the coroner's office reports.

A small pistol was found beside her. Neighbors said Mrs. Neil had told them if they discovered her window blinds down after 11 o'clock any morning to call the undertaker. Mrs. John A. Morgan, a neighbor, remembered the warning and called Assemblyman A. S. Batchelor. They entered the house to find the body.

Woman Teacher In State School Is Victim Of Fiend

Mrs. Vida Robare, 33, Pretty Reformatory Teacher Is Found Brutally Slain

HUSBAND RETURNS, DISCOVERS CRIME

Ice Pick And Blunt Instrument Used By Slayer In Fiendish Attack

(International News Service)
MEDIA, Pa., Oct. 4.—The crimson imprint of a bloodstained hand was expected today to eventually lead to the apprehension of the brutal slayer of Mrs. Vida Robare, attractive 33-year old instructress of the Glenn Mills school for boys, a state reformatory, a few miles west of this city. The dead woman was found partially disrobed lying on the floor of a cottage on the school grounds last evening. She had been stabbed to death with an ice pick, her skull fractured and a rib broken. Thirty-six wounds in all marred her breast, back and skull. On the wall nearby was the clearly outlined imprint of the murderer's hand, stained with the blood of his victim.

Found By Husband
The crime was discovered by the woman's husband when he returned home from his work at the reformatory at the end of the day. The couple occupied a cottage near the main school building.

From all indications the man had been lying on his bed reading a novel when the murderer entered her room. The man, or youth, is believed to have attempted to attack her and when repulsed plunged the ice pick into her body numerous times. Only a maniac or a wildly crazed person could have committed the crime, officials say.

The inmates of the school were to be quizzed today by Delaware county authorities in an effort to discover if any of them were implicated in the crime. They are all boys ranging in age from 10 to 20 years sentenced by the courts of the state to attend the school at the institution until they are paroled after reaching the age of 16 or are automatically discharged at the age of 21.

County detectives also are investigating the possibility that a prowler might have entered the prison grounds and visited the woman in her cottage.

Probe Under Way
William J. McCarter, Jr., Delaware county district attorney, has assumed personal charge of the investigation into the crime. He is being assisted by Charles Edwin Fox, former Philadelphia district attorney.

Following an examination of the body of the victim by Coroner George B. Frankfield, it was found the woman also had been beaten. The fracture of her skull and rib were due to blows of a heavy blunt instrument, the coroner said.

Investigators today were searching for the ice pick and club or blunt instrument used to commit the crime.

COLORFUL SCENES IN CARDINALS' PARK

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, St. Louis, Oct. 4.—Perfect Indian summer weather greeted the Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Cardinals as they romped out on the field this afternoon to stage the third contest for the baseball championship of the world.

A warm sun bathed the ball park with its scintillating rays, accentuating the colorful, festive atmosphere of the occasion. The stands were decorated with flags and bunting and the women folk, in summery costumes of bright and arresting hues, were present in generous numbers. A balmy breeze gently fluttered and stars and stripes atop the flagpole in center field and the mercury hovered around a pleasant 75.

Sprightly music added zest to the event. In contrast to the "canned" (Continued On Page Two)

Rush Under Way For Registration

Voters Flocking To Polling Places To Qualify To Vote

TONIGHT IS LAST CHANCE TO ENROLL

At noon today the indications were that the registration of voters would be far heavier than that of the two previous days, but unless an unusual number register late this afternoon and tonight, the total vote registered will be far below what could be normally expected.

Early this morning as the registration booths opened the rush began. Many stopped in on their way to work. The polls closed at two o'clock but will reopen at four and will be open until ten o'clock tonight.

Last Chance

The period between four and ten this afternoon and tonight is the last chance for voters to register. Registration made last year which permitted a vote in the primary election in May has no bearing on the case whatever. Every voter in New Castle, regardless of sex or party affiliation, must have registered on one of the three days provided if they wish to vote on November 4th.

Pennsylvania will elect a United States senator, a governor, a lieutenant-governor, a secretary of the interior, 38 congressmen, 208 members of the General Assembly and about 26 state senators. It is a most important election, one that will decide the government of the state for the next four years and should attract a heavy vote.

Check up on your own status. If you did not register in September, then you are not qualified to vote. To do so you must register before ten o'clock tonight or be disfranchised insofar as the November election is concerned.

FLY-WHEEL BREAKS WRECKING POWER PLANT AT FRANKLIN

FRANKLIN, Pa., Oct. 4.—With a terrific roar heard several blocks, the nine-foot flywheel of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool company steam engine, let loose, partly breaking the power plant and machinery, and scattering itself over the surrounding landscape for 250 feet Friday.

No one was hurt, though scores were at work in the plant. Great clouds of steam billowed about Engineer W. E. Rittenbick, who tried to shut down the engine, but was driven back.

The shattered flywheel sped through the roof then flew to pieces, showering itself like shrapnel over the shop area.

Arrest Man On Ellwood City Murder Charge

County Detective Causes Arrest For Murder On New Year's Day

FORMAL CHARGE IS MADE IN CASE

Guiseppe Padulla Is Brought To Lawrence County From Lorain, Ohio

Charged with the murder of Sam Miller, in Ellwood City on January 1, 1930, Guiseppe Padulla, alias Joe Pishioneri, aged 37, formerly of Ellwood City was held today before Alderman William E. Marshall on a charge of first degree murder. The charge was laid by County Detective Peck Lee and finishes a hunt for Padulla that has been going on since the murder.

On January 1, Sam Miller, a man about 45 years of age was found at the door of his garage in Ellwood City with two bullet holes in his head. No clues were at the scene, apparently nobody had seen anybody there, and apparently the man had been shot down as he stepped out of his automobile.

Padulla Leaves

At this time, suspicion was directed at Padulla, according to County Detective Lee, but the man left Ellwood City and has not been back since. A quiet search has been going on and several days ago Chief of Detectives John Meister, of Lorain, O., picked up Padulla, from a description furnished him by Lee. He was returned to New Castle by Lieutenant Fox of the Ellwood City police. State Policeman John A. Gendell, County Detective Lee and Constable A. Sharpe Leslie.

Several theories were advanced at the time of the murder of Miller. One was that a Black Hand gang had been operating and that Miller had refused to pay tribute. Another was that the murder might be a piece of revenge, rising out of an argument. The man is being held without bail and will be tried in the December term of criminal court. In the meantime, friends of his are taking up a subscription in Ellwood City to bear the expense of his trial.

Big Dope Raids In Ohio Cities

Federal Agents Make Cleanup In Cleveland And Akron

SEIZE DRUGS WORTH MORE THAN $50,000

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, Oct. 4.—Sweeping two northern Ohio cities—Cleveland and Akron—in the biggest "dope" cleanup in years, federal narcotic agents today seized thousands of dollars worth of drugs, including a large quantity of the deadly heroin, and arrested 61 persons.

The raids, which were directed by Ralph H. Oyler, agent in charge of the Ohio and Michigan district, were said to be the first part of a vigorous drive that had been planned under the cover of secrecy for months. Agents who conducted the raids were recruited from Detroit, Toledo, Akron and Cleveland.

More than $50,000 worth of drugs were seized and 31 persons were arrested in Cleveland by the federal men. In Akron, according to Oyler, 30 persons were arrested and many thousands of dollars worth of narcotics were confiscated.

Among those arrested in Akron, according to the reports, was a notorious "narcotic king" who is believed to be responsible for flooding this section of the state with drugs.

Dudley Arnold, Highland avenue, has returned from a visit with relatives and friends in Wales and has resumed his position as chief bookkeeper at the P-O office.

Arthur Mometer

He was a stalwart football lad, and lithe and tall, she was a lass with a winsome smile, not had a look at all. He was accustomed to vicious jousts, and tackled behind the line, she was accustomed to lighter things, matters aesthetic and fine. But though she was winsome and full of grace, way down in her inmost soul, she wanted the lad to crash over the line and camp on the enemy's goal. So she promised she did, that for every goal, she'd reward him with a smile, and out on the field he was filled with speed, and carried the ball in style. Did the enemy hold him as he tore through, did they halt him in midfield play, they certainly didn't, and that is why, we won, sixty nine today.

Claim Saverio Pollio Was Hit
On Head By Ball Bat
Thrown By Fred
Cipro

BOY SITTING ON BENCH WHEN HIT

Saverio Pollio, aged 8 years, by his father, Alessandro Pollio, and the latter in his own right, have filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Fred Cipro, in which they ask $20,000 from Cipro for injuries sustained by Saverio Pollio, when he was struck by a baseball bat, thrown by Cipro.

In the statement of claim it is alleged that Saverio was attending a baseball game on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie grounds. Fred Cipro was at the bat and had been struck out. Immediately he threw his bat which struck Saverio, who was sitting on a bench between third base and the home plate.

Saverio was struck on the head by the bat and rendered unconscious. He was taken to the New Castle hospital, where he was a patient for three weeks. It is claimed that his right arm and hand have become paralyzed and that he has been permanently injured.

In the suit $10,000 is asked for Saverio for injuries sustained and $10,000 for the father for the loss of earning power of his son.

Brazilian Government To Halt Revolters

(International News Service)
RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 4.—The tide of revolt which has swept Latin America during the last few weeks invaded two states of Brazil today, resulting in numerous clashes between state and federal troops and insurgent forces and necessitating stern measures by the Brazilian government.

Clashes were reported in Rio Grande do Sul, hot-bed of Brazilian insurrection for years, and in the state of Minas Geraes.

Latest reports received in authoritative circles here stated the federal troops had the situation in hand, but that widespread precautionary measures were being taken to preserve law and order.

A number of casualties were reported, as well as the capture of the general Figueredo, commandant of the government forces in Rio Grande.

You're the JUDGE

The Bilkins Manufacturing company ordered certain parts for a newly patented machine from a casting company in another city. All the negotiations were carried on by mail. In one of its letters the casting company wrote that if given the order for a considerable number of parts the company would get them out as fast as possible and ship them as soon as quantities were completed, and also bill them as shipped. In return the casting company asked that the bills be paid promptly so that not too much capital would be tied up at any one time.

And so the manufacturing began. In a little while the casting company finished one item and forwarded it, together with the bill. But for some reason no payment was received. Indeed, the casting company completed another item and again forwarded that, with the bill attached; still it received no payment even for the first item.

By this time the casting company became weary of waiting, and notified the Bilkins company that since it was not living up to its agreement all the work would now be stopped, and it was. Then the casting company filed suit for the work that was finished and also for the value of the stock and work that still was to be completed.

fall will be given from 4 to 10 p. m. this evening. You registered?

A spectator at the football game last evening was observed to take a nasty tumble at the close of the game. He was hurrying down over the seats on the right hand side of the field, when his toe caught under the seat, pitching him headlong. Fortunately he did not sustain any serious injury.

Next week is Fire Prevention Week, and in addition is Community Chest drive week in New Castle. Here are two good causes which deserve the attention of every thinking person in the city.

Considering the fact that two other night football games were in progress in this district last night, one at Parnell and one at Beaver Falls, where college teams were playing, the crowd at Taggart Field last night was a record attendance here. Last year, when crowds of the proportion of that of last night gathered, night football was a novelty and no other teams were playing in this section, the crowd coming from a wide area. Last night's crowd was largely local, except for the big delegation that came from Allegheny via the train.

The student body sure did make whoopee following the game at Taggart Field last night. Some 2,000 or more students joined hands and had a snake dance. The dance started at Taggart Field and after the students paraded the downtown section it was broken up.

Sixteen policemen were on duty at the game with Harding high of Allegheny Friday night. Lieut. Pete Hillers took charge of the situation.

Indications of summer's passing are many, but over on the west side there's one that stands out conspicuously. It's the lettered freight emblem of the Pennsylvania railroad in the freight office yard. Coming of cooler weather is making its effect on it.

West side folks who walk over the West Washington street bridge very often, noticed today that new boards were being placed where the old have become worn.

Ever visit a dispatcher's office? Over at the P. R. R. headquarters there's a crew of men operating the trains that run over the E. and A. division. Ask them where any train is and they'll tell you—they always know. It's a fascinating work this dispatching business.

Stray Kitten Is Only Skunk, Shot After Wild Chase

Man Allows Stray Kitten Which Turns Out To Be Skunk
Sleep In Cellar

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—There is a happy home in Camp Hill, Harrisburg suburb, today.

And a family with a decided aversion to stray kittens.

G. L. Jurz went down cellar to tend his furnace last night. Near the furnace lay curled a black and white kitten, stayed there a few days ago. Kurz decided to pet the kitten.

He did. And leaped up the stairs shouting for aid.

In a few minutes the Kurz family was at home to a score of neighbors. Some of them armed.

They listened to Kurz, went downstairs. Strong men wept as they pointed to the kitten.

"A memphis mephitis," they explained, "a skunk."

Then began a chase, ending an hour later when a shot from the revolver of Clifford Rodgers ended the menace. The immediate neighborhood, strongly aware of the intruder's presence, retired.

Today Mr. Kurz was nailing up his cellar windows.

"My cellar is no pollicatomb," he averred.

music" dispensed at Shibe Park in Philadelphia, a brass band whooped things up. Long before the players came out to practice the musicians squatted on camp chairs set up in front center field and oompahed with great gusto. They played everything but "The St. Louis Blues."

For the fans certainly weren't blue. They came equipped with clanging cowbells, horns, rattlers and every conceivable noise-making contraption. They set up a terrific din. There was a real world series "atmosphere" about this old ball game.

The St. Louis Red Birds, beaten in the first two contests in Philadelphia and with their backs against the proverbial wall, were grimly determined to "do or die" for old St. Louis today.

Here, on the home grounds, the big noisy crowd was behind the team to the last ticket holder and the Cards responded to the cheers of encouragement from the stands by going through a peppy workout.

Indications were that Bill Hallahan, a "smoke-bell" southpaw, would pitch for the Cardinals. As usual, Connie Mack, manager of the A's, refused to reveal his starting pitcher until the last minute, and, as usual, everybody was guessing whether it would be "Bill" Shores, "Rube" Walberg or "Lefty" Grove.

STAR LORE

THE LARGE AND SMALL CLOUD RICH IN STARS

By Arthur De V. Carpenter.
The large Magellanic Cloud is east of the Small Cloud a little more than five hours r. a. (right ascension), so the Small Cloud passes over to the west in advance of it. It is in the constellation Dorado (gold fish). As powerful telescopes are established in the southern hemisphere, much study will be devoted to both Magellanic Clouds. Both are rich in variable stars; many of them are of the Cepheid type, that is the type of regular variability. Miss Leavitt of Harvard, while at Arequipa, Peru, where Harvard used to maintain an observatory, discovered nearly 1,800 variable stars in the two clouds, mostly Cepheids.

ing of Patras and is now a prisoner in the county jail. He refused to comment on Bell's confession early today. Trauma is a prisoner at Leavenworth at present.

Bell's story definitely lays the plot to the north side Aiello-Zuta-Moran gang, from whom Lingle had collected for protection of their various illegal enterprises and then failed to deliver the protection for which he contracted, police agreed.

Bell said he drove Sullivan and Trauma to the entrance of the subway where they met the actual killer, a man who "resembled Geisling." Taking the snub-nosed "belly gun" taken from the rear seat of the car, Trauma got out and instructed Bell to drive east to the outer drive and there await them. The trio then disappeared in the subway to kill Lingle and Bell drove off.

Sullivan Shot.
Thirty minutes later Bell said he was joined by Sullivan and Trauma. Sullivan had been shot between the time he left Bell in the car and when they met again, a fact that puzzled authorities because only one shot was heard—the one which killed Lingle. It is thought that Sullivan accidentally shot himself in fleeing from the death scene.

Police have corroborated practically every detail of Bell's confession and said they were convinced the story told the coroner's jury was true.

Coroner Herman Bundesen, after interviewing Trauma in his cell at Leavenworth, said the gangster failed to produce an alibi for his whereabouts in Chicago on the day Lingle was killed.

When shown the Lingle death gun before the jury last night Bell identified it as the "belly gun" taken from the automobile when Trauma and Sullivan met the "blonde slayer." Original ownership of the revolver has been traced to Frankie Foster, ex-Moran gangster, who was indicted for Lingle's murder and brought back here from California to stand trial.

Deaths of the Day

James Twaddle Funeral.

The family home of James Twaddle at 416 Riverview avenue was filled with mourning relatives and friends and every available space was taken up with magnificent floral tributes when funeral services were held for him Friday afternoon with Rev. C. S. Joshua of the Croton Avenue Methodist church officiating. The choir of the church sweetly sang several of Mr. Twaddle's favorite hymns.

Thursday evening the Bible class of Croton avenue church held a special service at the residence, honoring the memory of one who had taken such an active part in their class; the I. O. O. F. also conducted their special funeral rites Thursday evening.

Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery with members of the Modern Woodmen as pallbearers: Charles H. Shaffer, C. R. Potter, E. N. Taylor, J. S. Leslie, R. R. Newton and G. E. Martin.

Mrs. Mary G. Stoner Peffer

Mrs. Mary C. Stoner Peffer, aged 66, wife of Fred Peffer, died at her home in Evans City at 8:45 o'clock Friday morning.

Surviving are her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Mossrush of Evans City and Mrs. Paul Kimmel of Ellwood City; two sisters, Mrs. George Gallagher of Bradford and Mrs. Elizabeth Stoner of Struthers, O., and a brother, W. B. Stoner of West Middlesex.

She was a member of the Presbyterian church of Evans City.

Funeral services will be held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Mossrush of Evans City, at 10 o'clock Monday morning, with Rev. W. Lamon McMillan, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Evans City, officiating. Interment will be in the Evans City cemetery.

Mrs. Elliott Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. Catherine E. Elliott were held from the family home in New Wilmington Friday afternoon, with Rev. W. F. Byers officiating, assisted by Rev. A. Kirkbride and Rev. Ralph Neale.

The home was filled with friends, neighbors, acquaintances and relatives, who had counted Mrs. Elliott as one of their fast friends, and many beautiful floral tributes attested to the popularity of Mrs. Elliott. During the service Miss Dorothy Kirkbride softly played several of the favorite hymns of Mrs. Elliott.

Interment was made in Plaingrove cemetery, with Warren Wilkin, Ralph Jordan, Walter Sewell, John Rust, Beryl McCaslin and Wallace McKean as pallbearers.

Coolidges Observe Silver Anniversary

Ex-President And Mrs. Calvin
Coolidge Married Twenty-Five Years Ago

(International News Service)
NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Oct. 4.—Former President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge today quietly observed their silver wedding anniversary at their estate, "The Beeches."

Later today the Coolidges were expected to begin a leisurely automobile trip to Boston, where they will attend the American Legion convention, with a stop enroute for the night at Henry Ford's Wayside Inn, in Sudbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge were married in Burlington, Vt., on October 4, 1905.

for the people it serves. Some time ago it was decided to build a new church and rectory and the site at the corner of North Cedar and East Wabash was chosen.

To Cost $30,000.00
The total cost of the new church and rectory will approximate $30,000.00. In size the church will be 75 x 35, while the rectory will be 27x27. White face brick will be used inside and the exterior will be dark face brick.

St. Lucy's now serves a parish of 365 families, all of the seventh ward. The present pastor, Rev. Fr. S. Ippolito has been in charge since 1922 and his untiring efforts have been largely responsible for the development of the church activities. With the new church completed it will be possible to expand the work still further.

The first pastor of the church was Fr. Joseph Darnelle, the second one Fr. Salvador Marini, the third, Fr. Ralph Di Filippo, the fourth, Nick Mangiello, and in 1922 Fr. Ippolito took over the work.

Why all the argument about permitting the States to decide how wet they shall be? They are doing that now, aren't they?

William Augustine and Elmer G. Blair were taken to the Western penitentiary this morning by Deputy Sheriff Russell McBride.

Augustine was sentenced for participating in the robbery of the Sutton gasoline station at the corner of Lutton and Mill streets. Blair was sentenced for robbing the Manufacturers' Heat and Light company office at Ellwood City.

Autos wouldn't be safe, either, if the best drivers had to act the fool to entertain crowds.

Replevin Writ To Get Church Bible

Holy Trinity Russian Church
Also Wants Other Articles
From Nick Mashchak

The Holy Trinity Russian Orthodox church has filed a writ of replevin at the prothonotary's office against Nick Mashchak to secure possession of one Holy Gospel Pulpit Bible, two collection books, one church seal and one key to church, the total value of which is listed at $100.

The statement of claim sets forth that the plaintiff acquired possession of the Bible by gift from defendant on October 2nd, 1928. It was in possession of the plaintiff until July, 1930. About July 14, defendant secured possession of the Bible and other property, which the church is now seeking to recover.

WHITTAKER-CLARK WEDDING NUPTIALS

A quiet wedding was solemnized Friday when Miss Dorothy Jane Whittaker, daughter of E. E. Whittaker, became the bride of Richard Leal Clark, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Leal A. Clark of York, N. Y., at the former's home on Edison avenue.

To strains of the Lohengrin Wedding Chorus played by Miss Helen Ewing, the bride, beautifully gowned in white satin made on the princess lines, entered the parlor on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She carried an arm bouquet of roses and valley-lilies, and wore an ornamental head dress. The couple were attended by Mrs. G. W. May, who acted as matron of honor. She wore a pink satin made on the same lines and carried valley-lilies and roses. Miss Elizabeth Wirsing as maid of honor was attired in green satin, and her bouquet was the same. Ward Whittaker served as best man and Elmer B. Whittaker and Clyde M. Whittaker were ushers.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. A. Clark, father of the groom, before a gathering of 50 relatives and close friends. All during the reading of the nuptials, Miss Ewing played softly selections appropriate to the occasion.

A wedding dinner supplementing the ceremony was served at the bride's home. At the bridal table covers were laid for eight guests. The decorations were of pastel tones and flowers formed the centerpiece.

Out of town guests were the Misses Marcia and Ellen Whittaker, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Whittaker and Mr. and Mrs. Waters Whittaker all of Ellwood City, Mrs. Carl Barnett of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace of New Bedford, the Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Clark, Ruth and William Clark of York, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Whittaker and Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson of Cambridge, O., Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Whittaker and children Kenneth and Ralph, Jr., of Pittsburgh.

Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Clark left by motor for an extended honeymoon, and for travelling the bride wore an ensemble of black and white with accessories to match. Upon their return they will take up their residence in Rochester, N. Y., where Mr. Clark is allied with the Eastman Kodak company.

MRS. GRAHAM S. FOWLE IS PLEASING HOSTESS

The Girls' Club were received at the home of Mrs. Graham S. Fowle for a one o'clock luncheon. Autumn flowers were tastefully used in the decorations of the table, as well as the home, making a striking setting. After a delicious menu had been served the hours were spent informally.

All the regular members were present and also three from a distance were in attendance, who were Mrs. M. Findley McConnell of Steubenville, Mrs. Donald Foster Hewitt of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Robert Cunningham, who has been abroad. Mrs. Fowle's house guest, Miss Mary Washburn, of Taunton, Mass., was a special guest of the club.

On Friday, Oct. 10, the club will be the guests of Mrs. Sam McCoun when she will entertain at the Field Club at a one o'clock luncheon. Also they will gather at the Jameson Memorial hospital Wednesday morning to sew articles for the institution.

LUNCHEON-BRIDGE AT FIELD CLUB TUESDAY

There will be a Luncheon-Bridge given at the Field Club house on Tuesday afternoon for the club members, with Mrs. C. W. VanNort and Mrs. R. E. Larry as hostesses. It is desired that all those who are planning to participate, will make reservations in due time.

Dorcas Class Meets

Members of the Dorcas Class of the Central Christian church met Thursday evening in the church for the first of their fall and winter meetings with Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson reading the scripture lesson and Mrs. Anna Kiddoo leading in prayer after which the members responded to roll call with a verse of scripture.

At the business session it was decided to hold a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Griffith Creston, 1815 Hamilton street on the evening of October 24. A social hour ensued with the entertainment committee taking the program in charge. Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, Mrs. Amy Wink, Mrs. Edna Neyman and Mrs. Irene Zeiler served on this committee and supplied a number of various diversions.

November 6 will mark the date of the next meeting which will be a class rally at the church.

Tuesday Kensington

Mrs. George M. Landis, Garfield avenue, will entertain the Tuesday Kensington on Tuesday, at a one o'clock luncheon.

At this time the election of officers and appointment of committees will take place.

HAPPY HOUR MEMBERS PLAN FOR MASQUERADE

Mrs. Kenneth McCaslin of East street was a charming hostess Friday evening when she entertained the Happy Hour Club members in her home, which was a bower of beauty, being elaborately decorated throughout with a variety of garden flowers. The usual social time was enjoyed, music, sewing and chat as pastimes. At a late hour the hostess served a delicious repast, assisted by Mrs. Edward Frey and Mrs. Aey.

Special guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Aey of Youngstown, O.; Miss Myrtle Preston, Mrs. Frank Frey, Mrs. Scott McCaslin, Mr. and Mrs. George Long and George Hartman Jr., all of this city.

Plans were completed for a masquerade party for the members and their husbands, which will occur on Wednesday, Oct. 22, in the P. and O. assembly room.

H. G. L. MEMBERS MEETING ENJOYABLE

Associates of the H. G. L. Girls Club were delightfully entertained Friday evening at the home of Miss Jean McClam on Waldo street when they entertained at their regular meeting, 12 being present.

The home was beautifully decorated throughout with novelties suggestive of the approaching season, Halloween. The table appointments were also in keeping with the same, including the favors marking the occasion, places, place cards, etc. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Fowle, McClam and Mrs. C. Nora, which was preceded by a social hour, indulged in games and contests of a wide variety. The prize for the evening was awarded to Mrs. Ted Kimmel.

October 17 marks the date of the next meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Astrid Nelson, Neshannock boulevard.

SOROSIS CLUB WILL ENTERTAIN FRIDAY

The opening luncheon of the Sorosis Club members will be an event of Friday, Oct. 10, at the home of Mrs. Frank Woods, 432 Sheridan avenue.

The committee in charge includes Mrs. George Stone, Mrs. A. L. Thayer, Mrs. George White, Mrs. John Whittemore, Mrs. Frank Woods, Mrs. D. B. Woolcock and Mrs. S. E. Crawford. This being the first gathering of the fall season, it is looked forward to with much enthusiasm.

Missionary Meeting

An interesting meeting of the Women's Foreign Mission Society of the Epworth Methodist church was held Friday afternoon at the deacons' home on Phillips street, with 48 present and Mrs. F. P. Andrews, president, in the chair. The devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Robert Russell, who spoke on "Through the Temple Door", followed by prayers, offered by Mrs. McConnell and Mrs. J. L. Wimer. Roll call was answered by a missionary item.

Mrs. Lloyd Thompson, Mrs. Sarah Wright and Mrs. H. G. Voorhees were appointed to attend the New Castle district missionary convention to be held in Sharon October 16-17.

Mrs. Ruth Wright, assisted by Miss Eve Nicklin and Miss Beulah Magruder, gave a clever demonstration, "A Rebuilt Auxiliary Member", and Mrs. Edward Mayberry gave a reading on missionary work.

Concluding the afternoon's program the committee, Mrs. J. P. Allen, Mrs. A. R. Shaffer, Mrs. Howard Reynolds, Mrs. George Forrest and Mrs. S. L. Maxwell, served delicious refreshments.

Section B Meets

Section B of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. James Lum, East Washington street, with 18 members present and Mrs. A. Hinkson as a special guest.

Mrs. Alice Wilson led the devotional period and after a brief business session singing and a conversation proved pleasant pastimes, with the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Hinkson, serving a dainty luncheon.

Mrs. T. McNicholas of Beckford street will entertain the section October 23.

Ramona Club Meets

Members of the Ramona club gathered Friday for their regular meeting with Mrs. Vance Montgomery as hostess at the home of Mrs. Orville Potter on Huxey street. Two tables of cards were in play, with prizes being won by Mrs. Orville Potter, Mrs. Frances Shoaff and Mrs. Helen Maloney, the latter who was a special guest.

A dainty lunch served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. William Nickel, brought the meeting to a close. In two weeks the club will be received at the home of Mrs. William Trax, Sheridan avenue.

Class Has Dinner

The Visitor Bible Class of St. John's Lutheran church enjoyed a meeting Friday evening in the form of a turkey dinner in the dining room of the church with a large percentage of the members in attendance.

The table was tastefully decorated in the season's highly colored flowers and a most excellent menu was served by the women.

A short business meeting followed dinner with matters of a routine nature being taken up, after which the women in a body, attended the opening at the Book-Leyde Mortuary.

MRS. JAS. A. CHAMBERS RECEIVES REBEKAHS

Mrs. James A. Chambers, Hillcrest avenue, proved a delightful hostess Friday evening when she received members of the Rebekah chapter of the First United Presbyterian church in her home.

The new mission study book, "At Work in the Homeland" was ably presented by Mrs. H. D. Hanna and topics were interestingly discussed by Mrs. Louise Critchlow, Rebekah Brown, and Mrs. William J. Brown. During the business session three new members were enrolled in the chapter.

A social hour followed the business meeting and an air of good fellowship pervaded the room as the women joined in general conversation, the hostess, aided by Pearl Hutchison, Mrs. Catherine Bishop and Mrs. Nancy Gordon, serving a dainty repast at the close of the evening.

November 7 the chapter will hold their next meeting.

Class Names Officers

Th A. T. Class of the First Baptist church was delightfully entertained Friday evening in the home of their teacher, Mrs. Robert Houk, 1214 E. 10th street. The gathering was in the form of a farewell party as Mrs. Houk is leaving the class and the girls showed their appreciation of her work with them in the form of a lovely gift, which was presented in a gracious manner.

At the business meeting officers for the coming year were elected with Virginia Allen chosen as president; Viola Scheidehlant, vice president; Laura Whitlatch, treasurer; Virginia Davis, sec'y; the latter two being retained for a second period. The remaining hours were spent in a social way with musical numbers being presented by various members.

To close the evening the girls were invited to the dining room, where the table was perfectly appointed, fall flowers being used as a centerpiece and dainty favors marking the places for nine girls.

L. L. C. Club

Mrs. Walter Knobloch of South River street pleasantly entertained members of the L. L. C. Club Friday, having as special visitors, Mrs. Earl Wright, Mrs. Emma Patton and Mrs. Carl Kuhn.

Cards were enjoyed as the chief entertainment, the favors being awarded to Mrs. E. B. Ray, Mrs. Richard Bailey and Mrs. Nina Redman for honors. Later an appetizing lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. M. J. Young and Mrs. William Tyrell.

Plans were completed at this time for a masquerade party, to be held at the P. and O. lecture rooms on Tuesday, Oct. 28. The committee in charge includes Mrs. E. B. Ray, Mrs. Walter Knobloch, Mrs. Nina Redman and Mrs. Harold Braden.

Birthday Party

Mr. and Mrs. James Bordonaro Jr. of South Mercer street entertained 25 little guests in their home Friday in honor of the fourth birthday of their little daughter Santina. The hours were enjoyably spent with games and music, and as an added feature, Tootsie Mangiere gave a toe dance.

The climax of the evening came when the children were ushered into the diningroom where they were seated at a table beautifully decorated in pastel tones. A large birthday cake topped with four lighted candles formed the centerpiece.

The honor guest received many beautiful gifts in memory of the day.

Section B Meets

Section B of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. James Lum, East Washington street, with 18 members present and Mrs. A. Hinkson as a special guest.

Mrs. Alice Wilson led the devotional period and after a brief business session singing and a conversation proved pleasant pastimes, with the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Hinkson, serving a dainty luncheon.

Mrs. T. McNicholas of Beckford street will entertain the section October 23.

Ramona Club Meets

Members of the Ramona club gathered Friday for their regular meeting with Mrs. Vance Montgomery as hostess at the home of Mrs. Orville Potter on Huxey street. Two tables of cards were in play, with prizes being won by Mrs. Orville Potter, Mrs. Frances Shoaff and Mrs. Helen Maloney, the latter who was a special guest.

A dainty lunch served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. William Nickel, brought the meeting to a close. In two weeks the club will be received at the home of Mrs. William Trax, Sheridan avenue.

Class Has Dinner

The Visitor Bible Class of St. John's Lutheran church enjoyed a meeting Friday evening in the form of a turkey dinner in the dining room of the church with a large percentage of the members in attendance.

The table was tastefully decorated in the season's highly colored flowers and a most excellent menu was served by the women.

A short business meeting followed dinner with matters of a routine nature being taken up, after which the women in a body, attended the opening at the Book-Leyde Mortuary.

Baby Girl Is Found Drowned

Kidnappers Believed Responsible For Death Of Baby;
Purse Missing

(International News Service)
WAYNESBURG, Pa., Oct. 4.—Stolen from its crib during the night, the four-months' old daughter of Paul Lewis, a farmer, was found drowned early today in a milk house within 50 yards of the Lewis' home.

Lewis reported that a purse containing $40 was missing from his home.

The father said he had gone to the bedside of his infant daughter during the night and found her missing. He immediately aroused the neighborhood and search for the kidnappers got under way.

The City of Waynesburg was sickened with horror when the little girl's body was found. Searching parties of citizens deployed through the countryside seeking some trace of the kidnappers.

Police were mystified as to a motive for the brutal killing of the child.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

no wonder the Indians regarded it as a spirit land, to be entered only with fear and veneration.

Bryce Canyon National Park is an entrancing fairland, with its spires, towers, and minarets, of the most exquisite hues, so delicately carved by nature that "stone resembles lace." Statues, monuments, cathedrals—the eye can pick them out everywhere.

Nowhere else in all the wide world can you find anything like it. It is unique and its sensuous beauty lingers long in the memory as a masterpiece of the Giver of all good and perfect gifts.

Drive sixty miles through the incomparable Kaibab Forest, the largest tract of virgin timber in the United States, seeing herds of deer as you pass along. Proceed to Bright Angel Point, or Cape Royal, on the North Rim of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado. If the majesty of that sublime spectacle does not impress, one must indeed be impervious to the beauties of nature.

In order that this trip of national parks may be readily, safely and conveniently reached by visitors the national park service and the State of Utah have caused a new highway to be built.

The first eight and one-half miles of the road, including the tunnel section, are within the boundaries of Zion National Park, and have been constructed at the exclusive expense of the United States. The remaining sixteen and one-half miles is a Federal aid project, and has been constructed at the joint expense of the United States and the State of Utah.

The original reconnaissance visualized a road where it seemed almost unbelievable that a road could be built. When engineers finally located the highway it was necessary to scale vertical cliffs by means of ropes and ladders in order to scout the territory and find an available alignment.

There is no doubt that travelers from all over the world will come here to see this remarkable engineering achievement, although they might not come especially to view the scenery.

The people of the United States, as they travel over this highway and help to make it world famous; as they drive through these tunnels which have shortened the distance; as they look from these galleries and behold the magnificent panorama spread before them—should not fail to give a thought to the men whose vision, skill, ability, enterprise and loyalty were responsible for its creation.

possibilities of wages, and of human enjoyment?

When the earth has more than enough for everybody, why should not everybody have enough?

But do not let future prospects make you discontented with your present condition.

Ralph S. Kelley of the field division of the national land office in Denver, accuses government officials of selling out 40 billion dollars worth of public shale oil property for $2,600,000.

The wide "spread" between two millions and 40 billions amounts to $38,998,000,000.

The charges, made by an official, will have the attention of the president and Secretary Wilbur in spite of the fact that it is impossible to fix any actual value for shale rock containing oil. To extract the oil would not pay at present prices, and it may not be worth while for the next hundred years or longer.

Nevertheless, investigation is necessary of the charges that "dummies" are hired to take up small sections of public land at two dollars and a half an acre. "Dummies" turning their purchases over to big oil companies.

Mussolini says he will do anything to avoid war. And, part of his wise plan for avoiding war is to keep ready for it. He expects to see the prosperity of the whole world restored within three years, and casually says "Speculators deserve death."

In Russia, they do more than say it. They take the speculators out in twos and dozens, and shoot them, if they speculate in a way that Russia considers injurious.

If we applied that rule in the United States, there would not be enough shooters. However, even this country tolerating anything done in the name of dollars and profit, might take action with regard to the speculators deliberately conspiring to destroy public confidence, by methods well understood in Wall street.

Dean Hanford of Harvard refused a postponement of Thursday's examination of students requested by Jewish students, forbidden by religious scruples to do any manual work, even writing, on the religious holiday of Yom Kippur. He agreed, however, that Jewish students might dictate answers to questions and that proctors would be provided for the purpose.

Harvard, out of respect for Christianity, has no examinations on Sunday. In the eyes of this government, all religions are entitled to respect. The dean might well have found a day other than Yom Kippur for the examinations, if only for the practical reason that Jews, including Julius Rosenwald, have been among the most generous contributors to the funds of Harvard college. Their contributions have always been accepted.

Dr. Zaro Agha, a Turk, visiting America, who thinks he is 156 years old, is probably one of the oldest men living, if not actually 156. Dr. Voronoff, who "restores youth" by gland transplantation, offers to rejuvenate poor old Agha.

No more cruel suggestion could be made. As well drag a weary man from his bed, or give red hot coals to a child.

Considering the number of perfect hands that have been dealt in bridge games of late it would seem as if the science or art of dealing is being greatly improved. — The Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Numbers Pool Paraphernalia Amuses County Authorities

While county authorities are racking their imagination to find suitable disposition of the $200 in cash confiscated in a numbers pool headquarters raid on a Moravia street home August 30, the problem of what to do with another seizure in the same raid was quickly settled this morning.

The other seizure, a supply of lottery blanks in book form, was taken from the office of Alderman W. E. Marshall this morning to the court house, where the blanks will be destroyed according to County Detective Lee.

A profusion of yellow-colored unused blanks in two baskets on the alderman's desks met the gaze of the county men today. Each basket had a tag which gave data on the time of confiscation.

An interesting feature of the moving was the discovery of numbers "dream" books in the baskets containing the blanks. Lee, Constable Leslie and Alderman Marshall were amused by the alleged "inside dope" of the books, which purport to aid the tenderfoot who starts out on a numbers spree.

lotion that hardly ever proves successful.

"The dream" books listed men's names and numbers that are alleged to be the successful combinations for the particular persons. Then, in addition, such objects as "tree" or "saps" were also "numbered."

The tag on the basket containing a plentiful supply of blanks announced that the paraphernalia had been seized from Henry Buckner, colored, of Pittsburgh, during a raid by County authorities, including Lee, Leslie, and Constable Raymond Tally of Wampum, on August 16. On Thursday Buckner was sentenced to three months in the workhouse and ordered to pay a fine of $100 for operating a lottery.

The other basket of blanks was seized in the Moravia street raid on August 30, which resulted in the arrest of George and James Gabriel and confiscation of the $200. James Gabriel drew a two months' sentence to the workhouse, and was ordered to pay $100 and costs. George was ordered to pay the same fine and costs, but received a sentence of four months in the workhouse.

Police Execute Four More Dogs

Four dogs are no more, having been shot by a police officers gun this morning in the war that is being carried on by the authorities in an effort to put a stop to the running at large of all canines.

Three of these unfortunate animals were killed in the South Side district, while the fourth was from the State street district, near the west line of the city.

But that was not all, for a fifth dog was brought to the station this morning by the boy owner and his mother, with the request that the dog be disposed of. It would not keep from howling and annoying the entire neighborhood.

It still lives but will probably pay the same penalty as the others dogs killed this morning.

The police department plans to continue this campaign against dogs until all are removed from the streets of the city and kept tied up at their homes as the law requires.

VETERAN'S REUNION DATE EXPECTED TO BE ANNOUNCED SOON

Veterans of the Erie & Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad will likely gather here for their 10th annual banquet and reunion some time during the next month or so, it was announced today.

However, no definite arrangements have been made as yet.

Man Cut On Face In Alleged Holdup

Police Investigate When Called To Hospital To See Injured Man.

Called to the New Castle hospital to investigate how a man there for treatment had secured his injury Officers M. J. Young and Letera found Steve Merocchi of West Pittsburgh, suffering from a wound on the face.

Merocchi informed the police that he had come up from West Pittsburgh on the P. and L. E. and got off at Gardner station. As he was leaving the station, he was accosted by a colored man, who demanded his money.

When Merocchi did not comply the negro struck him on the face with something which caused the wound dressed at the hospital. Railroad men sent Merocchi to the hospital. He lost no valuable.

Changes Are Made In Polling Places

County Commissioners this morning made an order changing the polling places in two districts, following the presentation of petitions. In Princeton the polling place is moved from Princeton hall to the I. O. O. F. hall. In New Wilmington the polling place is moved from the council chamber to the fire department building on Vine street.

TOWN DOCTOR

"DOCTOR OF TOWNS" SAYS

CREDIT IS SOMETHING YOU CAN'T BUY

There is one thing I have never been able to figure out, and that is why a man, who having been extended credit by a merchant, and when owing that merchant, will go to another merchant or another town and pay cash for merchandise, when he could have bought and paid cash to the merchant who favored him when he didn't have the cash.

I asked a man who did this for an explanation. At first he said he didn't know, then admitted he was afraid the man he owed would think he should pay the $20.00 on the bill instead of buying more, and he wanted what he had bought. Such an attitude is wrong, it isn't fair to the merchant or the debtor.

Credit is something you can't buy. You have to earn it and a man with good credit has something as valuable as money and should be guarded the same as money.

The credit of the people of a community is as important factor, when it comes to industrial extension, much more so than many people realize. How the people of a community pay their bills is an item often seriously considered by industry in considering a town for location of a factory.

Not long ago a representative of an organization of negotiators told me a certain town was rejected as possible location for a factory with an annual payroll of six figures, by one of his clients because the records for a period of several years showed the native residents to be poor pay. This client, he said, made it a policy that all employees must pay their bills promptly and an employee sued was equal to discharge, therefore the client would not consider that town.

This country has been built up on credit, but there are many communities that are being torn down by it, because some people take advantage of it.

To have a good, live town, you must have up-to-date snappy stores, and no merchant can have the kind of stores you would like to trade in if his capital is tied up in slow accounts.

Owing a man money is nothing to be ashamed of, in fact it is a credit to you. You should be ashamed however, if you can pay what you owe and don't or owing one merchant spend your cash money with some other merchant.

Gardens Theme Of Graders' Program

West Side Pupils Recite, Dance And Sing At Assembly On Friday

West side school pupils of grades one, two and three participated in a garden program when the regular Friday morning assembly program took place yesterday. Devotions were conducted by June Wheel, and after the flag salute and American's creed had been given the following exercises took place:

Song, "Autumn Lullaby"—Grade 3A. Exercise, "Looking for Lost Summer"—Marian Cowart, Wallace Smith, Billie Lowers and Geraldine Bevan. Poem, "The Corn Stalk"—David Robinson.

Exercise, "Golden Rod"—Lena Mae McConnell, Robert Bechtel, Covell Hemphill, Leroy Fondrick and Elizabeth Scher.

Story, "Golden Rod and Aster"—Ethel Horton. Dance by William Hike, Frank Masters, Clair Hoover and Bobbie Wheel.

Exercise, "Flowers Lullaby"—Helen Follen and Harry Stevenson. Poem, "Jack's Thought"—Jack Slev.

Exercise, "In the Fall"—Vern Christopher, Billie Alexander, Norma Joyce, Betty Williams, Donald Booth and Mary Catherine Williams. Poem, "Seeds"—Jean Kennedy.

Song, "Autumn Winds"—Grade 2A. Mrs. Chaucery Davis then presented the following pupils with prizes in regards to the recent flower show. Greatest variety of vegetables, Wallace Smith and Esther Tartier; greatest variety of flowers, Ethel Horton and Andrew Kretzel; best specimen of vegetable, Margaret Alexander and Tony DeMatteo. Most artistic bouquet, Billie Kastner and Thea Ayers. Special mention, Donald Herry, Wallace Smith and Frank Faller.

The prize winners, in addition to the prizes awarded by the Parent-Teacher association, are each to receive six copies of the Military Ball from the Weingartner flower gardens at the proper time for planting.

W. S. Lewis Will Act As Chairman

It was announced this morning that W. S. Lewis will act as temporary chairman of the Military Ball committee, Armistice Day Celebration, due to the absence of Ivor Davis. The next meeting of this committee will be held on next Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the Legion Home.

This committee is busily engaged preparing for a ball which will be held at the Cathedral on November 11.

Mrs. Hattie Polonus Will Greet Friends

Daniel John announces that Mrs. Hattie Polonus of Youngstown will be the speaker Sunday evening at the Spiritual church of Truth. Mrs. Polonus is well known in the city and will no doubt be greeted by many old friends as she conducted a Spiritual church in this city for many years.

Card Of Thanks
We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kind expressions of kindness and sympathy during the recent bereavement of our beloved father and husband, W. L. Clyde.

Also we wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and for use of automobiles. MRS. W. L. CLYDE & FAMILY.

Heads Kappa Alpha Alpha Sorority

MARY HAMILL

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 4.—Miss Mary Hamill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamill, R. D. 8, New Castle, is president of Kappa Alpha Alpha sorority at Westminster college this year.

Miss Hamill, senior, is a graduate of the Mt. Jackson high school. She is a member of the glee club and of the oratorio society and has been vice president of her class.

Dr. W. E. McClure Will Speak To Young People Sunday Night

Sabbath evening the sermon in the First Presbyterian church will be preached by the pastor, Dr. Walter W. McClure and will be especially addressed to the young people of the congregation. His theme will be, "Our Debt to the Past" text taken from 1 Cor. 4:7 "What Hast Thou that Thou Didst not Receive?" The illustrations for this sermon will be drawn from the ancient countries Dr. McClure visited on his trip abroad this summer. The sermon will not be a travel lecture, but will have in it much of travel interest. The general public is invited to attend.

Rally Day Will Be Observed Sunday

First Presbyterians Plan For 100 Per Cent Attendance In Their Bible School Sunday

Sunday has been chosen as Rally Day in the First Presbyterian Bible school and the superintendent, Arthur B. Foster has directed that invitations be sent to all officers, teachers and scholars in order that a 100 per cent attendance may be possible. The attendance at Sabbath school has been steadily increasing since vacation time and the growth is most wholesome and substantial. The teachers will be in their places early Sabbath morning in order to greet their classes.

Communion Service At Croton Church

Rev. Clifford S. Joshua, pastor of Croton avenue Methodist church, announces this morning that there have been elaborate preparations made to have their communion service Sunday one of the largest ever held in the church. This is the first communion of the conference year and an effort is being made to have every member partake of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

The church altar has been beautifully decorated with beautiful flowers in profusion and the vested choir will have full central response to the communion service.

Historical Play Given By Pupils

A historical playlet was presented Thursday afternoon by the history pupils of Highland school. The playlet was well presented and of great interest and of value to those who composed the audience.

Characters were: Columbus, Paul Rumbaugh; King, Jack McConaghy; queen, Evaline McMichael; cardinal, Donald Lusk; ladies of honor, Jean Ramsey; Jean Parker, Roberta Meyers, Estelle Cukerbaum; wise men, John Manos, George Swisher; herald, Dale Gardner; prior, Billie Boston; Indians, Robert Goldman, Fred McWilliams, George Stitzinger, Joe Wallace, Russell Warner and Robert Dix.

The program committee has been fortunate in securing Rev. Clifford S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton Avenue Methodist church, as the speaker at this time. It is anticipated a large crowd will greet Rev. Joshua.

"About the time it gets cool enough to enjoy a good rest at night," writes Eph Keljoy, of Newport, "it gets so cool one wants to stay in bed in the morning."—The Harrisburg Telegraph.

Four Children Get Blue Stars

Membership In Blue Star Club At Public Library Rises To Fifty-Seven

Fifty-seven members are now enrolled in the Blue Star club, organized in the children's department of the public library last week by Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian.

Four members have already received four blue stars respectively, as their rewards for taking home ten books and after reading them returning them to the library spotless and untorn. The purpose of the club is to impress upon young borrowers the importance of taking care of books.

Legion Of Honor Will Entertain At Tuesday Dinner

Plans Are Completed For Opening Consistory Dinner Of Fall

Members of the Legion of Honor of the New Castle Consistory will play a prominent part in the Consistory Dinner Club party at the Cathedral next Tuesday evening.

The Legion boys expect to go over the top in fine shape with colors flying and bugles blowing. But it must be remembered they know no retreat, therefore their part of the show is bound to go over big.

As entertainers extraordinary they are in a class by themselves and the first dinner dance of the season promises to set a pace that future affairs will have to step lively to keep up to. Of course the entertainers for that evening do not propose to show their hands this early in the game but they do expect to make a grand slam.

General Chairman Wm. J. Moffatt is being congratulated upon naming the Legion of Honor boys to take charge of the evening's entertainment which follows the dinner. All indications point to a large crowd at the opening of the fall season. Affairs were so popular that the members of the New Castle Consistory are looking forward to the one Tuesday evening with keen interest.

Local Girl Aids With College Play

MONMOUTH Ill., Oct. 4.—Elizabeth Giffilian of New Castle, has been made the assistant property manager of the Junior Class play, which will be given on Homecoming night, October 25. The play "The Queen's Husband" requires an old English setting, in royal palace and certain stage effects which will all be difficult to produce. The property managers and production staff have a hard job working up the proper setting, but at the same time they have an exceptionally good play to prepare it for. Those who are familiar with the play are interested in seeing how the staff works out its problems.

Homecoming will open officially on Friday night, October 24, with a mammoth pep meeting, but many visitors are expected back to attend classes and chapel on Friday morning. Informal gatherings are scheduled for Friday night.

Aged Woman Fractures Hip

Mrs. McKay Scott, aged 91, had the misfortune to trip in her room at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. Yoho, Katherine street, this week and fell to the floor fracturing her hip badly.

On account of the age of Mrs. Scott her condition is serious although she is resting as easily as can be expected.

Red Cross Nurse Has Busy Year

One of the biggest services rendered to the community by the Red Cross, operating under the Community Chest, is that of its nursing service.

During the past year, Miss Kathryn A. Hite, visiting nurse of the Lawrence County chapter, has had an extremely busy year, in spite of the fact that a great many people who might have applied for assistance, did not do so because they were ignorant of this provision made by the chapter.

A total of 1,151 visits were made by Miss Hite, during the past year, in addition to aiding with the well baby clinics and other work.

These visits are classified as follows:

|                             |     |
|-----------------------------|-----|
| Medical                     | 285 |
| Surgical                    | 65  |
| Chronic                     | 152 |
| Pre-Natal                   | 22  |
| New born                    | 31  |
| Infants under year          | 34  |
| Pre-school (1 to 6 years)   | 189 |
| School age (6 to 16)        | 230 |
| Tuberculosis                | 8   |
| Visits in behalf of parents | 125 |

Total 1,151
During the year the nurse made four talks to school teachers and four talks to pupils in the schools on health subjects.

Tonsil operations were secured for 13 children whose parents were unable to afford to have this work done, and glasses were secured for nine in similar circumstances.

During the year, four first aid stations were conducted at which 86 people were cared for. The nurse spent 109 hours on duty at these stations.

New patients taken care of during the year are classified as follows:

General 79
Welfare 16

Re-admissions 17
Total 106
Aided at well baby clinics 68 times during year.
New babies 128
Return 1027

Total 1153
In addition to the above, the nurse held office interviews and meetings with 310 during the year. There were 37 patients taken to clinics and 7 were admitted to the hospital.

In addition, the nurse assisted with school work and weighed 149 school children.

Ask Postmasters To Prepare For Christmas Rush

Post Office Department Urges Postmasters To Lay In Stamp Supply

WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 4.—With the leaves turning yellow and red and Christmas less than three months in the distance, the post office department has started to prepare for its annual Santa Claus duties in Pennsylvania by requesting all postmasters of the State to see that they have a good supply of postage stamps on hand.

The department has decided that this year it will eliminate all shipments of stamps during the congested period of December 10 to 26, except those arising from emergency demands that could not be foreseen by the postmaster. The department feels that

Tabernacles Feast At Temple Israel

Harvest Festival Will Be Observed With Special Services

Sukkoth, the harvest festival, which in a large measure inspired the American Thanksgiving Day, will be observed with special services at Temple Israel, on Monday evening at 8:00 p. m. and Tuesday morning at 10:30. At the Services Rabbi Menkes will preach on "Providence Human and Divine."

In commemoration of an ancient observance, a symbolical booth or Sukkah will be erected in the Vestry Rooms of the Temple and the "four species of plants," the palm branch, the citron, the myrtle and the willow, will be used in the morning ritual.

The pulpit flowers will be furnished by Mr. and Mrs. William L. Cosel in honor of the birthday of their father Jacob Cosel.

Sukkoth—The Feast of Tabernacles
This year the Jewish festival of "Sukkoth"—the Feast of Tabernacles—will begin on Monday evening, October 6, 1930. The story of it is told in an announcement by the Tract Commission of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations and the Central Conference of American Rabbis.

This holiday ranks among the three important occasions of the Hebrew calendar when in ancient days all males were required to make pilgrimages to Jerusalem, to offer sacrifices there, participate in public feasts, and rejoice exceedingly. From the time of its institution, however, the Feast of Tabernacles has been distinguished from the other festivals of the year in that it stands as a reminder of the urge of nature. From of old, therefore, the form of celebration of this holiday has likewise been unique.

In the Bible this festival is also called "The Feast of Ingathering," for at the time when the Jews dwelt in Palestine as tillers of the soil the motive of this holiday was primarily agricultural. Coming as it does at the close of the economic year in Palestine, the Feast of Tabernacles was distinctively an occasion of thanksgiving for the fruit harvest and for nature's bounty during the year that passed. The people gathered in the precincts of the Temple, offered sacrifices on each of the seven days of this festival to symbolize the reconciliation of all nations to God. In the days of the Temple another day was added to the celebration of this festival. The sacrifices which were offered on this eighth day symbolized the reconciliation of the Jewish people to God. The joyous festivities of Sukkoth reached their climax with the ceremony of the libation of water, called in Hebrew "Simchat Beth Hashoevah. The people gathered in the galleries of the Courts of Women, sang hymns and songs of praise to God, and took part in torch-dances.

With the destruction of the Temple practically all ceremonies pertaining to the Temple disappeared from Jewish life. The festival, however, remained, assuming even greater meaning and significance. The Sukkah—the frail booth—which observant Jews still build today, stands as a reminder of the booths which the children of Israel built during their wanderings in the wilderness after their exodus from Egypt. Today the Sukkah also reminds the Jewish people of the divine protection which it enjoyed from time to time following their exile from Palestine. A cluster of four plants, the lulab, or palm branch; the ethog, of citron; the myrtle and the willow of the brook, is brought into the house of God as a reminder of the harvest season. Jewry at large, however, stresses Sukkoth as the Jewish Feast of Thanksgiving—as the Jewish Feast of joy and gladness.

SUBWAY COMFORTS.
At intervals, traffic in the subway curls up like the tail of a Pekinese pup and becomes defunct.

This sort of thing has been going on steadily for the last twenty years; but each time it happens it earns a brand new story in the morning and evening papers of Manhattan.

In its ability to become astonished all over again at the same threadbare fact, the Capital of the Commonwealth is without a peer.

With a scheduled ten-minute journey ahead of him, a New Yorker lowers himself into the subway, boards a train and improves the occasion by slumping, stoop-shouldered in his seat with his nose in his newspaper. If he has no newspaper, he chews his wad of gum in fish-eyed stupor, either seated or hanging limply to a strap.

Somewhere along the route the "express" train slows down and finally stops. The lights begin to flicker and go out. Several diminutive, emergency bulbs flash into being, shedding an illumination as dazzling and all-pervasive as a lighted cigarette in a darkened cathedral.

Through the murky windows the steel walls of the tube, grimy and forbidding, drive home the fact that if anything serious happens to be amiss, he is hemmed in a crowded metal car, with doors locked, like a caged animal.

HAPPY ANYWHERE.

ANNOUNCES THE APPOINTMENT OF LAWRENCE AUTOMOBILE CO.

Corner South Mercer and South Streets, New Castle, Pa.

AS OAKLAND-PONTIAC DEALER

This appointment is in itself a token of the excellent qualifications and responsibility of the new dealer who will sell and service these two automobiles which are outstanding in their respective price fields:

THE NEW OAKLAND EIGHT

This is a General Motors eight-cylinder car priced at only $895 and up at factory. Its 85-horsepower engine develops one horsepower to every 37 pounds of car weight. That is why few cars can equal its speed, power and acceleration. It is a car with superior performance. It is also a car of exceptional smoothness. And its new bodies by Fisher are splendid examples of smart styling. Yet, with all its outstanding qualities, it is exceptionally economical to own and operate because of its moderate first cost, its sturdy construction, its accessibility of parts and its exceptional gasoline mileage.

THE NEW SERIES PONTIAC BIG SIX

This new and finer Pontiac includes all the big car qualities which made past Pontiacs so widely popular. Yet it is priced at only $665 and up at factory. Its big, powerful 60-horsepower engine—the largest in any six at its price—is smoother than ever because of new-type rubber engine mountings which insulate it from the frame. Improved brakes, a sloping non-glare windshield, Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers at no extra cost, and many other features make this newest Pontiac a finer value than ever.

Your new dealer is authorized to give you the full benefit of the G. M. A. C. time payment plan. His franchise enables him, furthermore, to sell Good Will Used Cars—reliable, inexpensive transportation backed by a fixed policy of honest value for the customer's dollar.

Come in and examine these two new cars. You are assured a cordial welcome. And we hope you will take the earliest opportunity to become acquainted with your OAKLAND-PONTIAC dealer.

a banquet at one of the swank clubs. Teddy, at the pinnacle of his popularity, with that presence that is the hallmark of every astute politician, saw what was coming. And in the speech he made at that dinner, went out of his way to serve notice on his enemies that when they struck they'd find him prepared. Here, in part, is what he said:

"Popularity is a transitory thing. Today a man is on the crest of the wave. Tomorrow he is in the trough of the sea. But this I want to say: When I am no longer on the crest of the wave, you will find me swimming just as strong, and having a mighty good time!"

I was reminded of that speech, in somewhat lesser fashion, the other day, in reading an interview a New York reporter had with Police Commissioner Mulrooney.

The Commissioner has spent years appraising the Passing Show and is wise in his day and generation.

"They all agree you're a good Police Commissioner," said the reporter. "Yeh," replied Mulrooney, with a smile short and cold as a December afternoon, "well, let's wait till I start taking it on the chin and then see what they say!"

Cannon Prepares For Defense In Latest Charges

Bishop Cannon, Jr., Works Daily Planning Defense For Tribunal Trial

STUDY EVIDENCE AGAINST CANNON

By PIERCE MILLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. — Almost certain to be brought to trial before a church tribunal on charges preferred by four travelling elders of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, Bishop James Cannon, Jr., whose turbulent career in the dry cause has attracted both bitter attack and equally almost fanatical praise, today was busy outlining a defense.

If Cannon's interrupted honeymoon has been resumed, there is no outward evidence of it. He is at his office in the shadow of the Capitol daily, and although not altogether inaccessible, he remains adamant in his refusal to discuss the charges. That he has not yet received a written copy, is probable, but he has been informed by his accusers of their purpose and scope.

Is Game Fighter
He is still the fiery, fighting Bishop who gave renewed determination to the dry forces, which with the death of Wayne B. Wheeler, had lost a picturesque and tenacious leader.

Until Cannon gets a "bill of particulars" his defense plans must remain sketchy. He has given no indication of weakening under attack, and if a committee of elders to be appointed by Bishop W. N. Ainsworth to investigate the charges, so decides, he will be suspended.

Meanwhile, from the other camp it was learned evidence to be used against him is being studied, and the utmost care is being taken to see that the disciplinary procedure of the Southern Methodist Church is meticulously observed.

Rally Day At Trinity Church Sunday Morning

All departments of Trinity church school will meet tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. in the guild room of the church at the corner of North Mill and East Hills streets, entrance at 205 East Falls street. This will include the kindergarten and primary sections. The occasion is the annual observance of rally day, when parents and friends are cordially invited to enjoy the special program and when teachers and officers look forward to welcoming all boys and girls of school age who have belonged to the school in the past, or who have no other church affiliation.

The special program, with S. D. Pearson and Mrs. T. F. Stryker as the principal speakers is as follows: Procession of children from the primary and kindergarten departments, during the singing by all of Onward Christian Soldiers. Creed and Lord's prayer and other devotions. Offertory hymn, 530, "I think when I read that sweet story of old." Greetings by the rector. Report of 100% classes and new pupils. Address by Mrs. T. F. Stryker. Promotion of children from primary to intermediate department. Procession of primary and kindergarten children with their teachers and officers to their special room during the singing of hymn 534 "Lead On, O King Eternal". Address S. D. Pearson. Attendance awards for 1929-1930. Crusader pledge. Hymn 441 "Faith of Our Fathers". Benediction, Rev. Philip C. Pearson.

On Our Depression

"BABY GOLF HAS SHAKEN PUBLIC CONFIDENCE BUT BRIGHTER DAYS ARE INEVITABLE"

Jest before steppin' in a bus for Ptoptown, Tell Binkley gave out the follerin' in regards to the times, "You kin repeat me as sayin' that there's ever' evidence o' returnin' prosperity an' bootleggin' shows no signs o' lettin' down." Ther kin be no acut about prosperity bein' in the offin'. Even today business is as good as it wuz in 1873. Mrs. Leghorn Tharp's powerful brother, who wuz here some time ago, gave out a statement to the Weekly Slipshorn jest before steppin' in an airplane fer Wall street in which he predicted a vigorous upward spurt in business jest as soon as winter underwear begins to move. He further predicted that Scotch 'll remain around $10. While the plane wuz bein' refueled he continued, "I kin see no reason fer labor to be discouraged with winter comin' on! snow to shovel an' ashes to be carted." Dr. Mopps who has given much time an' study to gall bladders, says the advent o' winter'll mean the cessation o' kid golf, when hundreds o' millions o' dollars 'll trickle back into the legitimate channels o' trade. Jest before borrowin' $3 on his car this mornin', Farmer Jake Bentley released the follerin' statement to the press: "The belated rains have greatly helped the Republican party an' saved the turnip crop. Please say fer me that we'll have plenty o' turnips an' Republicans this fall. Wheat fer fuel 'll solve the heat problem. All grades o' wheat are rich in heat units, an' wheat fires do not injure the wall paper an' hangin's. Mr. Ainsley Putnam, long an authority on Belgian hares, an' who has jest inherited $250,000 from relatives in Iowa, says the rejuvenation o' business is easily discernible in all lines an' that we must be patient a while longer, an' that prohibition's to be a permanent thing. "I don't look fer it to ever be any easier to git a drink than it is today. I don't see how it could be," snapped Mr. Putnam as he swung onto a movin' interurban car. Mrs. Em Moots' uncle, who is superintenden' the layin' of a pipe line from Brownsville, Texas, to Chicago, spoke freely of his impressions in regard to the business outlook before mountin' his bicycle Friday, sayin', "The great need o' the hour is spendin' instead o' holdin' onto money. A gradual loosenin' up among all classes would work wonders. A nation that kin support billions o' fillin' stations an' baby golf courses should buy some shoes an' socks, an' bread, an' things." After leavin' a forwardin' address at the postoffice an' climb-in' in a spring wagon fer the poor farm, Agriculturist Wash Purviance added a very reassurin' note to the long list of optimistic views regardin' the times, sayin', "I've been through a lot o' panics an' depressions; an' the records'll bear me out when I say fer it the country has allus survived 'em. Have no fear of a panic fer the people are too undernourished."

Will Make Film Of New Castle

Work To Be Started At Once On Production Of Local Movie

Through the efforts of Manager Dave Victor of the Victor Theatre the services of the Civic Art Film Productions, nationally known producers of civic and educational motion pictures, have been secured to produce a historical, civic and industrial motion picture of New Castle.

The production will include all of the outstanding points of local interest, street, schools, public buildings and scenes of the early days in our city the later reproduced from historical photographs.

City Officials, the Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club and other civic organizations will be invited to participate in the production and a section of the film will be devoted to the industrial activities in which some of the leading mercantile and manufacturing institutions will be given an opportunity to represent the making and merchandising of New Castle products.

One of the most interesting and educational sections of the industrial division of the film will be the making of a modern newspaper the scenes being taken in the plant of the NEWS and will show the many operations necessary to convert a bit of news into the paper you read daily.

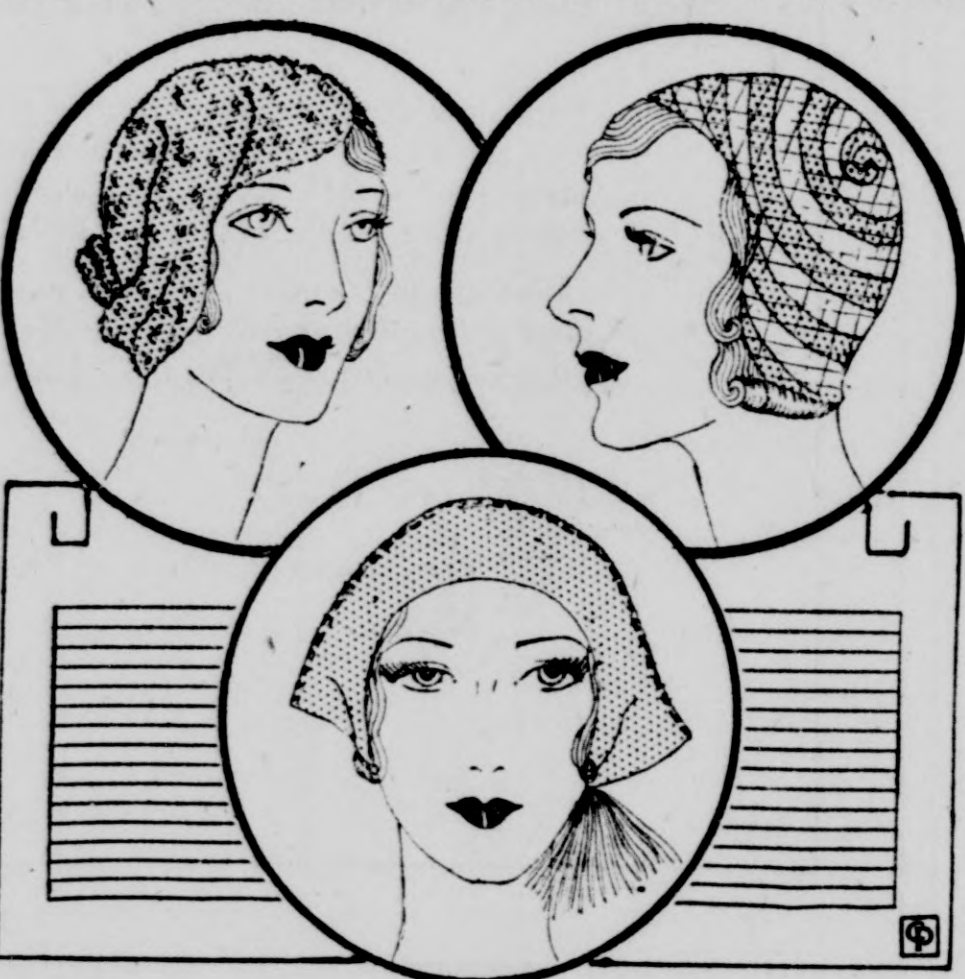

Upon completion of the production it will be shown for one week in the Victor Theatre, after which it will remain in the city as a permanent historical record of this city in 1930 and will be available for use by any of the civic organizations who may care to make use of it for exploiting the many advantages of New Castle. The producers will bring to the city for the making of the production a complete equipped mobile studio unit, thousands of candle power studio lights and all the necessary equipment for the making of a production of this kind.

AUTUMN MILLINERY CLOSE FITTING

Caps of fur, moulded to the head, are worn with street ensembles this fall and winter. Sometimes they are trimmed with tufts of aigrettes. Close fitting turbans of satin, velvet, fur or taffeta with low crowns, tightly enclosing the head, or cut into sections like a jockey's cap, the brim hiding millady's profile on one side and revealing it on the other, are the vogue. Or, perhaps, with a bit of the stuff falling at one side behind the ear, or on the nape of the neck in the back. Three of Lelong's chapeaux are sketched.

Denver Claims World's Dahlia Height Record

(International News Service)
DENVER, Oct. 4.—Recent publication of a press dispatch from Santa Cruz, Cal., telling of a dahlia plant seven feet in height for which the world's altitude record is claimed, has caused no end of an uproar among Denver dahlia growers. No less than thirty Denver residents have reported dahlias from eight to ten feet in height.

The highest dahlias in Denver grown by Mrs. C. M. Walker and Mrs. John Steele, are ten feet high. A Denver amusement park has hundreds of dahlias more than seven feet in height.

St. Mary's Mission To Close Sunday

Men To Attend Service In Body And Receive Communion Sunday

The mission conducted during the past two weeks at St. Mary's church by the Capuchin Fathers has been more of a success than really anticipated and the services have been attended by large congregations and the preaching and singing have been inspiring to all who have been so fortunate as to attend.

During the first week the mission was for the women of the parish, and during the past week for men. The closing service will be held on Sunday evening.

The service this evening will start at 7:45 o'clock and will honor the Blessed Sacrament. During the holy hour the sermon will be on "The Promise and Institution of the Blessed Sacrament".

Confessions have been heard during the week and the men of the congregation will attend the 9:30 o'clock mass Sunday morning in a body and receive holy communion. During the mass appropriate hymns will be rendered by the men in the congregation. Last Sunday at 8:30 mass the women attended in a body and the service was very inspiring to all.

The 11 o'clock mass Sunday will be a low mass.

Sunday evening the closing service of the men's mission and the entire mission will be held at 7:45 o'clock. During the renewal of the baptismal vows and the pronouncing of the Papal blessing the church will be a most inspiring sight, with men holding lighted candles.

There will be the benediction of the blessed sacrament and the men will join in singing "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name".

EXECUTIVES OF P. T. A. MEET

First meeting of the West Side Parent-Teachers Association is scheduled to be held on Wednesday evening, Oct. 8, at eight o'clock in the West Side school building.

At the meeting of the executive committee on Thursday with the president, Mrs. Chauncey Davis, in charge, the organization for the year were made, important questions of the activities were discussed and a study of the subjects for the P. T. A. meetings were discussed.

The seven objectives of the association are: health and life, worthy home membership, mastery of tools, public techniques and spirit of Learning, faithful citizenship, vocational and economic effectiveness, wise use of leisure and ethical character.

Corn Borers Are Showing Decrease

MEADVILLE, Oct. 4.—That corn borers are fully 50 per cent less than last year in Crawford county is the announcement made by the bureau of plant industry and reported through the office of Powell H. Brown, Masonic building, in charge of the work here.

Clean-up regulations apply strictly in this county and Erie county, and a decrease of at least 50 per cent is believed to have been the result. Farmers throughout the county who made a thorough clean-up of corn remnants last spring report scarcely any damage from the borers in the 1930 crop.

Concerning the statewide situation it is stated that scouts employed by the bureau searched the cornfields of approximately 174 townships in 29 counties during the past summer, and the record of their work indicates that the rigid inspection and clean-up system of the state is showing definite results. Only in three counties was an increase shown.

ONE-ARM LAW IS EFFECTIVE

ALBIA, Ia. Oct. 4.—"The arm of the law" in the Monroe county has been literally. Only 50 per cent normal, but it has been highly efficient.

Two sheriffs, each having only one arm, have enforced the law in the county for the past 30 years. The first one, John Dorer, effectively subdued law-breakers back in the days when murders and stabbings were common. One story which old-timers relate tells how a huge negro after committing a double murder, hid in a corn field and kept a mob of 150 men at bay until Dorer arrived. The sheriff walked into the corn field unarmed, so the story goes, and brought forth the negro, handcuffed and submissive.

The second sheriff, Albert Robinson in his youth was a volunteer aide to Dorer. Later he became the second one-armed sheriff in the county. Tamer days had come and Robinson's deeds were not so spectacular. The present sheriff, however is feared by liquor law violators, and his sleuthing in a murder case which went months without solution finally to be cleared by Robinson with a reluctant conviction, brought fame to him as well as his predecessor.

In a little while all nations will have tariff walls, and then they can all get rich by charging themselves too much.

If he steals a dollar, he's a thief; if he steals 50 thousand, he's an embezzler; if he steals a million, he's acquitted.

The Ninety and Nine

To the vast majority of customers whose accounts are paid promptly according to terms of sale, we take this opportunity to offer our sincere thanks, and assure them of our appreciation.

To the very few who, through carelessness or indifference permit their accounts to become past due, we offer the suggestion that the continuance of such practice will eventually destroy their credit standing. A good credit rating is a most desirable possession.

Those who, through illness, lack of employment or other reasons, cannot pay promptly, can retain their own self-respect and strengthen the credit grantor's confidence in them by a personal interview and a full and frank statement of what they can and will do.

guests were Mrs. R. J. Boyd, Beaver Falls, Mrs. Lena Tate, Cochranston,
Mrs. Kate Thomas, Frostburg, Md.,
Mrs. J. O. Dickson and two daughters,
Edenburg.

The M. E. G. Auxiliary had charge of the evening's program. Devotionals were in charge of Mrs. H. E. Alexander. Roll call of the societies then took place with members answering by giving Bible verses. Following which there were short separate meetings of the societies.

After the business meetings the societies re-assembled in the Sunday school room where the evening's program was continued. For the occasion the room was attractively decorated with fall garden flowers. Mrs.
H. R. Unangst, as chairman of the program presided. The program was as follows:

"Dandelion Song," Betty and June Alexander, Irene Scheidemann.

Recitation, Marion Unangst.
Instrumental music by Mrs. George Horchlor and sons George and William.

accompanied by Miss Helen Johnston on the piano.

Recitation, "Being Glad" Mildred
Broadus.

Recitation, Irene Scheidemann.

Piano solo, Miss Helen Ewing.

Address of the evening, Miss Cecelia Lewis.

At the conclusion of the program delicious refreshments were served by a committee of ladies of the Opportunity Circle. The committee comprised, Mrs. C. E. Dungan, Mrs. F. W.
Guy, Mrs. Gertrude Marshall, Mrs.
W. C. Patterson, Mrs. Harry Morrison.
The committee from the M. E. G.
Auxiliary in charge of the arrangements for the program comprised, Mrs. H. R. Unangst, Mrs. H. E. Alexander, Mrs. E. L. Vincent.

The meeting was very interesting and enjoyed by all present. A joint meeting of the missionary societies of this church is an annual event.

Weight Gain Helps Looks And Health

Dr. Clendening Thinks Too Thin Persons Abnormal

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
Is there any advantage for the thin person to gain weight?
We are constantly told about the dangers involved in getting fat and being given instructions in reducing.
What about the other side of the picture?

The constitutionally thin person is just as abnormal as the constitutionally fat person, and a fattening cure will correct certain tendencies which are uncomfortable, if not dangerous, in such a type of body. The constitutionally thin person has not the dangers of diabetes and high blood pressure as the constitutionally fat person, but he has other dangers.

I strongly suspect that the main reason either the thin or the fat person take corrective measures is an aesthetic one. They want to look better. And I am far from being scornful of such an ambition. If everyone in the world looked beautiful it would suit me very much better as a place of residence.

But aside from that, the constitutionally thin person has many things to gain in taking such a course of treatment as I have recommended.
Even if it does not result in putting on as many pounds as desired, it keeps the nutrition up and relieves one's constant feeling of fatigue.

The most serious danger the constitutionally thin person has to consider is tuberculosis. The development of tuberculosis is always favored by too much exertion and lack of nourishing food. This treatment provides rest and plenty of food, and so corrects that tendency.

Then the constitutionally thin person is likely to have dyspepsia of some sort. This is associated with constipation. Both of these conditions are due to the low position of the stomach and intestines. Dependent also on a flabby abdominal wall. As we instructed yesterday, there are daily exercises to strengthen the abdominal muscles. When they resume their tone the stomach and intestines tend to be held in better position.

The extra amount of food, if it results in a gain in weight, also helps to raise the stomach and intestines.
Tissue and fat are deposited in the mesentery, the ligament which holds the stomach and intestines in place.
The natural sourness of disposition many of these people have is in part due to their dyspepsia, in part to their fatigue—or at least to their easy fatigability. They are the melancholy type, "the office grounch." This is not always true of all of them, of course, but it is a tendency.
With more food, more rest, a better tone to the muscles and better position of the stomach and bowels, they naturally tend to overcome their gloomy outlook on life.

Like all plans of treatment of this kind, it must be persisted in a long time. Probably for life. Nature is strong. The nature of the beast is to pull itself back to its original condition.

Do not expect results in a few days or weeks. It may take a month or so to get the condition under control.
Several more months to see definite improvement. And perhaps a lifetime of observance to keep in good trim. But anything worth doing at all is worth doing thoroughly.

Freshman Court Held At College

Special to The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 4.
—Members of the upper class committee at Westminster college held the first "court martial" of the year for freshmen on the terrace in front of Old Main Memorial Thursday night.

Freshmen who failed to follow regulations governing the dress and conduct set down for the yearlings were each given a penalty. In most cases continuation of bizarre dress and novel decorations constituted the "punishment."

James Mayer, Union City, N. J., was chairman of the upper class committee in charge. Marshall Fisher was attorney for the freshmen, while Rueben Kennedy was attorney for the upper class group.

Nancy Believes Bim Hid Diamond During His Sleep

Herewith Is Latest Solution To Question Of Uncle Bim's
Missing Mogul

Question of the hour—who stole Bim Gump's Mogul diamond? As there is no Cock Robin to pop up with a confession, the mystery is being delved into by every loyal law abiding citizen of United States. But at every angle the detectives run up a blind alley and it is getting to be more and more of a dark and seemingly unsolvable mystery.

Little Nancy Reichard, of New Castle, R. D. 9, sends in her solution to it all and it stands approved as the only solution of its kind yet submitted. Here you are:

New Castle, Pa.
R. D. No. 9,
Oct. 3, 1930.

Dear Sir:
I have been reading about Bim Gump and Henrietta Zander in the paper and want to tell you who I think took the diamond. I think that Bim was worried about the diamond and thought someone might take it.
So he got up in his sleep and hid the diamond in his trunk and got back in bed and didn't know anything about it.

Your Little Reader,
Nancy Reichard.

Rescue Mission Will Resume Sewing

The Dorcas sewing class of the Rescue Mission will resume their activities October 9. This sewing circle turned out much work last winter for the needy of the city and it is expected the women will be even more industrious this winter.

There were 99 garments, including boys' pants, waists and overcoats;
girls' dresses, skirts, middie and coats made by the mothers last winter, also four quilts were made. Any woman of the city who is interested in doing a kind act for the needy will be welcomed to the sewing classes.

The girls sewing class will be resumed on October 18 and all girls between the ages of 6 and 16 will be made welcome at the teachers who so kindly gave their time last winter will again be in attendance and teach the young fingers how to be useful in a practical manner.

Last Of Blooms Are Gone From New Bedford Cereus

The show is over now and the Night Blooming Cereus at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bradley is its staid old self again. For sixteen years the plant has been in the possession of the Bradleys and two or three times every summer for the past seven years it has beamed forth appreciatively with blooms of astounding beauty.

This was an unusual summer for the Night Blooming Cereus. It surprised its owners by giving 22 blooms in all—13 of which opened one night and in several hours closed, leaving but a pleasant memory in the minds of those who witnessed them.

Five of the flowers opened and showed their radiant white faces early last Spring.

Last of the flowers dropped from the plant this week, and the show is ended until—next Spring perhaps.

Radio Dealers Are Numerous In Lawrence County

Department Of Commerce Estimates Show Pennsylvania Has Most Dealers

(By ARTHUR C. WIMER, Special Washington Correspondent of The New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4.—Radio dealers in Pennsylvania are more numerous in Lawrence county than in the country as a unit but are less concentrated in the county than in Pennsylvania as a whole, according to estimates and calculations by the department of commerce.

The department estimates that there is one radio dealer in Lawrence county for every 2,945 residents, whereas in the entire country there is only one dealer per 3,130 population. In the Keystone State as a whole there is one dealer for each 2,960 residents.

Radio dealers in Pennsylvania number 3,332, of which 33 are in Lawrence county, according to the commerce department figures. The department estimates that in the country as a whole there is a total of 39,152 dealers or one per 3,130 residents, which would seem to indicate that from a national viewpoint Lawrence county has more than its share of dealers.

Bugle Corps To Meet Monday Eve

Election Of Officers Will Be Held By Organization Of McBride Post

Members of the Bugle and Drum Corps of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will meet Monday evening in the Armory on Neshannock avenue.

Members are requested to note the change in date from Tuesday evening to Monday, evening.

The meeting will be a most important one, for in addition to rehearsing for the coming Armistice Day celebration, the corps will hold its annual election of officers and all members are expected to be present.

New Oakland and Pontiac Models Have Arrived—On Display Today

The 85-horsepower engine in the new Oakland "8" develops one horsepower to every 37 pounds of car weight. That is why few cars can equal its speed, power and acceleration. It is a car with superior performance. Priced at $895 and up at the factory.

The new and finer Pontiac includes all the big car qualities which made past Pontiacs so widely popular. Yet it is priced at only $665 and up at factory. Its big, powerful 60-horsepower engine—the largest in any six at its price—is smoother than ever because of new type rubber engine mountings which insulate it from the frame.

We invite the public to visit our showroom at their earliest convenience, also to drive them.

Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—First seven days of October are expected to average above normal temperatures. Generally over North America and a gradual but general increase in precipitation will be expected in extreme eastern Great Central valleys during the month. October storm force will be greater than usual during almost the entire month, especially near warm storm waves expected to cross continent during week centering on 6 and near cold storm center expected to center on 21. These conditions will not be favorable to the observation of partial eclipse of moon that occurs October 7 or total eclipse of sun that occurs 21, as both these periods will be stormy with heavy clouds. Warm storm waves expected to cross continent during weeks centering on 6 and 10, while expected to be of moderate intensity of force, will cause a disagreeable wet period over central and north Great Central valleys and Great Lake region. This period will not be favorable to corn harvest, but will furnish some much needed sub-soil moisture, as heat has forced corn to early maturity, moisture of October will not likely do any great damage. Highest temperatures of October will be expected in Atlantic coast and east Gulf states, relative to local normal temperatures; these states will also be expected to experience the greatest decrease in precipitation during the month.

An unusually strong combination of planetary positions will occur during storm waves centering on 6 and 10, but the positions that would carry sufficient of the force within the earth's atmosphere will be lacking. If a position occurred, during these storm periods, that would conduct the force to the earth, very dangerous storms would occur in the northern hemisphere.

Scientists continue their efforts to make power or force that would be commercially profitable by breaking up the atom; they also hope that such power will solve the long sought transmutation of elements. A recent article thru the A. P. states that atomic hydrogen particles will be speeded up to 37,000 miles a second and shot at the atoms of other elements in an effort to break up such atoms and release the immense power which is supposed to contain. It would be foolish to claim such things as impossible, but it is my belief that greater and more certain force could be obtained from inter-planetary rays. Such rays are known to come within the earth's atmosphere and the time will surely come when they can be harnessed and put to work. When this is accomplished, the same line of experiments will undoubtedly prove the inter-planetary force that causes atmospheric changes, drought, excessive precipitation, panics and epidemics.

A Valuable Service You Cannot Buy

Quite often automobile owners want advice on some particular question of automobile laws, rules, license blanks, titles, etc. Often there are questions about insurance. We have had the experience and will be only too glad to give you what advice and assistance we can. Call us or stop in. No, you can't pay for this—it's our treat.

State Inspection Of Car Necessary

Do not put off having your car inspected. Get your sticker on as soon as you possibly can. There will be a great rush the end of this month. Our responsibility is such that we cannot rush so important a work. Leave your car any time and get it later.

Hot Water Makes Best Heat for Automobiles

The New Hot Water Heater for your car is here. Put one on, use it... if you don't enjoy it and think it well worth the investment, your money will be cheerfully refunded. It's a wonderful pleasure to have sweet, clean heat.

An Automobile Accident

We hope that this never happens to you, but if it should we maintain an up-to-the-minute wrecking service car which is available at any time, day or night. A call to 4600 or 4601 will get your car out of trouble at once.

We can repair any wrecked car no matter how badly damaged. We hope you will never have occasion to need this service, but if you do, our service and advice is yours for the asking.

NOTES OF TROOP "F"

103RD U. S. CAVALRY
OF NEW CASTLE

Troop banquet date is set for November 13, Capt. Bintrim announced today. Speakers at the affair will be Maj. Samuel B. Wolfe and Capt. James E. Shelton. Guardsmen and the Citizen's committee will bring a gathering of 75 to the tables. It will be one of the biggest functions ever held by the troop.

However, the absence of several members from drills, might mar the forthcoming event. It is now known that the commander has ordered three habitual star-aways to be brought in by a constable.

The dark bay from the stables was a favorite at the production of "Odds" in the Cathedral. On Wednesday it was suggested here that someone offer a name for the horse. Armory records fail to disclose any name. It is highly important that the animal have a name and the commander urges all in the troop and friends to suggest names, which will be cheerfully accepted.

Drill Sunday at 1:30 sharp. Schedule calls for mounted pistol and saber, instructions mounted and principles of equitation.

A fire jump will be included by Sergt. Miller during the stunt show that is expected to follow the drill Show will start at 3 p. m.

Whether or not Capt. Bintrim and Lieut. Mitchell will present this troop at the National Guard convention which opens in Wilkes-Barre October 17 and 18 is still problematical. They have not yet received authority to attend.

The commander will have a full schedule of events for the troop. He left for Youngstown to make ar-

Everyone says: "Oh! Yes! I know Buick, it's a great car. But man, no one knows this Buick '8' until they have taken the wheel. There's something about this Buick straight eight that's different... something about the performance... something about the ease and quietness of Synchro-Mesh gear-shifting... something about the luxurious silence of Insulated Bodies by Fisher.

This is no sales talk. It's just what everyone says who drives one...

Cadillac Official Makes Statement Concerning Cadillac and La Salle

The bringing out of the Cadillac V-16 a few months ago and now the new Cadillac and La Salle V-Eights, and early in October the new Cadillac V-12, may give rise to some question as to our manufacturing program.

It is our desire that Cadillac and La Salle owners and the motoring public be apprised of the facts.

The La Salle will remain companion car to Cadillac. It was so introduced, as such it has greatly succeeded and as such it will continue.

Obviously the number of motor cars which any manufacturer may sell in a given price field is finally governed by the ability of the public to buy them.

Cadillac cars having gained almost universal acceptance in the finest car field, any considerable expansion must be through cultivation of a broader market in lower price ranges.

Our experience has been in building fine cars. The Cadillac organization could not adhere to its fine car ideals and successfully produce a low priced car, but through a more complete coverage of the fine car field it was apparent that we could give greater value and appreciably lower prices.

For the broader market, therefore, we created the La Salle out of our Cadillac experience and developed it as a quality car.

For the highest priced fields we have produced the sixteen-cylinder Cadillac and the twelve-cylinder Cadillac.

And between the very broad market for the La Salle and the relatively narrow market for twelve and sixteen-cylinder cars, there is a large market for Cadillac's V-8's.

These lines of cars contribute to one another a tremendous influence in sales, a marked advance in values and make possible the low prices at which Cadillac and La Salle cars are sold.

And this, briefly, is the reasoning in Cadillac's program.

Were it not for La Salle, all Cadillacs would be higher in price; and were it not for the Cadillacs, La Salle prices would necessarily be so high as to defeat the purpose for which the La Salle was designed.

Each of these lines is dependent one upon the other—the Cadillac V-16, the Cadillac V-12, the Cadillac V-8, and their companion car, the La Salle.

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Set Up High Standard For The Young Folks

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

DEAN INGE Archdeacon of Canterbury and Bishop of London, has shocked some of his fellow churchmen by what he had to say about companionate marriage in his new book, "Christian Ethics and Modern Problems."

Apparently he separates the sheep from the goats, with companionate marriage bad for the sheep in the fold, but good for the goats outside. Church members are to marry for life blessed by the church. For others there is to be available a civil marriage, according to the way he would have it, to be dissolved by divorce or mutual consent at any time.

Referring to companionate marriage, he says: "If two persons wish, however, a limited contract, the term of which is understood by both sides, I think they have a right to claim that the state recognizes their position as something better than mere concubinage."

His suggestion may be a handy expedient, but it is hardly the ideal which you and I would wish to set before our youth.

The chief danger of companionate marriage is that it puts sex desire foremost. To do so is to put human motives and human relationships on a low level.

As a father and as one interested in parent education, I should not like to set before my children, nor advise you to set before yours, the ideal of companionate marriage. It gives a wrong start and is full of wrong suggestions. I should like my children to build up, long before they marry, the ideal of marriage as a life-long companionship with a purpose to overcome whatever marital difficulties may arise, and with the conviction that their highest self-realization and self-expression will have come to them in rearing, in the most skillful manner possible, a reasonable number of healthy children growing into useful, lovable men and women.

Companionate marriage begins with undue emphasis on self-regarding motives and suggests doubts to those about to marry: "Maybe we'll get along together, maybe we won't. What of it?"

We parents who have lived together a number of years and mean to play the game together till the end, enter marriage with a tremendous emotional drive centered about the ideal that sticking together was very important.

Look back over your own experiences. There doubtless were some times when your relations were not wholly smooth. Now suppose you had had in your head all along the companionate marriage ideal. What might have happened then? Get such an idea in your mind now and let it grow; then mole hills of marital differences will swell to mountains.

Companionate marriage does not call for self-discipline, self-sacrifice and idealism at the stage in matrimony when such factors can be most useful and have most to capitalize on. Heaven knows there are enough troubles ahead for the pair about to marry without suggestion of selfishness and cowardice at the outset.

Human nature is such as rarely to measure up completely to ideals, no matter how low the ideals may be. Why set them so low for your children and mine? Why not expect them to lift themselves a good deal higher than the brute?

In reality, companionate marriage has been going on inside the church and out. So have robbery and murder. But that is no good reason why we should hold them up as ideals.

The vital question is not church or non-church, but the kind of standards which appear to promise in the long run greatest human happiness and welfare. If I believed that companionate marriage promised that I'd be for it! But I don't think it does. What do you think?

Circle From Here Will Attend Event

Protected Home Circle No. 5 Will Send Representatives To Sharon Celebration

A large representation from New Castle Circle No. 5, Protected Home Circle, expect to attend the session held by the Sharon Circle on Monday night. It is seldom that a meeting of that nature can be witnessed. The business session will be conducted by young men in full evening dress and the ceremonial of initiation will be in charge of the ladies' degree team. Then the "Happy go lucky girls" will put on their exhibition drill in Japanese costumes.

The teams will be from Cleveland Circle 547, the only circle in the order that can boast of their distinct teams. This unusual session will take to Sharon large representations from district circles, New Castle being in the front line.

Lillie B. Jones, Secretary No. 5.

Fourteen Enroll In Graduate Class

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 4.—Professor J. A. Shott, head of the department of psychology and education at Westminster college, announced last night that 14 teachers from Lawrence and Mercer counties have already enrolled in the graduate course in educational sociology which class meets Saturday mornings at 10 o'clock.

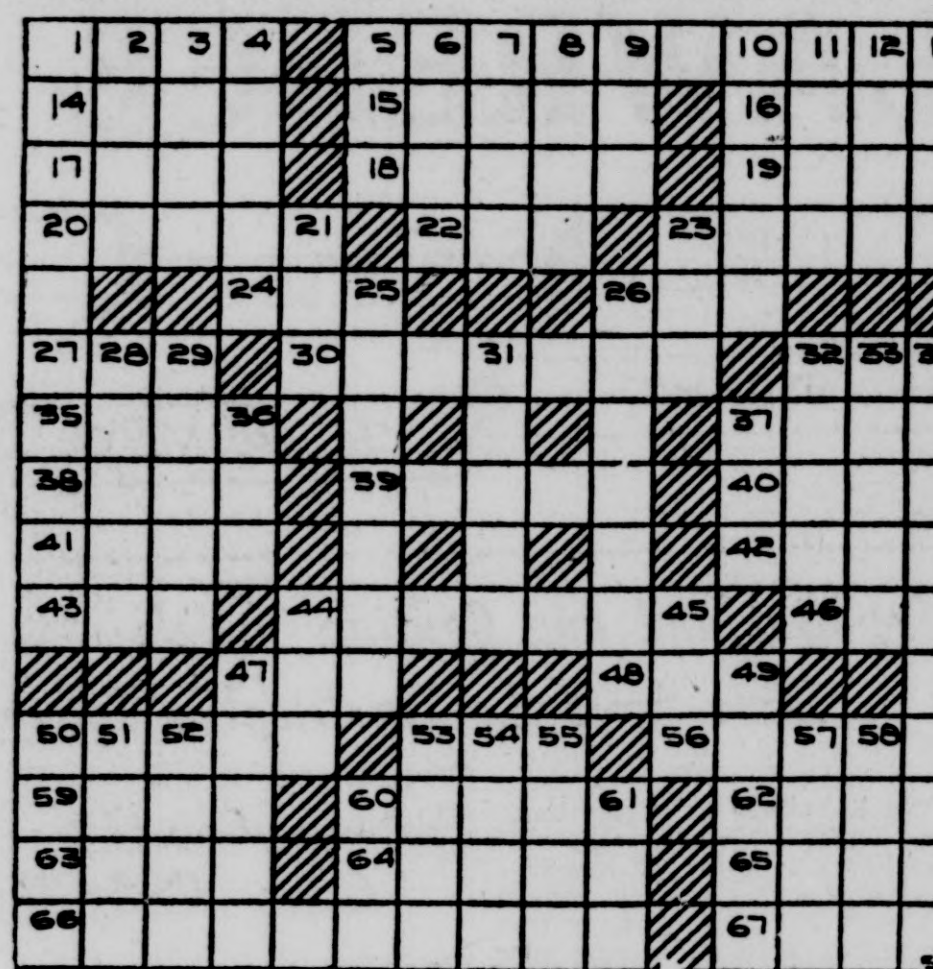

This is the fourth year that Westminster has offered graduate work for teachers which is accepted by the state department of public instruction. The course will go toward permanent certification by the state, carrying one credit. An additional graduate course will be offered during the second semester.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Peter's Adventures

AS OTHERS SEE US

Peter had always heard that when two Ants fell to scrapping there was apt to be a free-for-all fight between their sisters and cousins. He was wondering how he should take Busy's part, when suddenly he made the pleasing discovery that there wasn't going to be any scrap, not even an argument.

"I beg your pardon," said Nurse Ant to Busy. "Do you know, it is too bad that most of the time none of us can see ourselves as others see us. I didn't intend to be mean, and I didn't know I was until you showed me how I'd feel if you stepped in and tried to step off with the honors with a guest of mine. Believe me, I had no idea the stranger was any particular friend of yours, although if, as you say, I had a grain of good sense I would have known he couldn't have passed the sentry, unescorted. Please accept my apology, guest." Polite as you please, Nurse turned to Peter and bowed. "I am sorry I shall have to take back my invitation to the cow pasture. But I hope you'll understand."

"Of course I do!" Peter, not to be outdone in good manners, bowed low to Nurse. "I spoke out of turn, too. Of course I couldn't leave dear Busy to go anywhere in Ant-town with any other Ant."

The sun shone once more for Busy. A sister Ant had said she was sorry and the boy still wanted to be her pal.

"Don't say another word about it," remarked she. "And to show you that I'm as good a sport as you, Nurse, let you and I together take our guest to the cow pasture."

MEETING AT SHARON

The Men's and Women's Bible classes of the Zion church were entertained on Friday evening of last week at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Carl Jones of Sharon. Among those present from this vicinity were Mrs. H. J. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Young and Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. George Book, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Allison, Mrs. Harry McCracken, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Stickle, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cooper, Van Studebaker, Mr. and Mrs. Oran Brandon and children and John Drawbaugh. A very good social time was spent by those who attended and lunch was served by Mrs. Jones and aides.

The next meeting will be held in the grange hall at Billsburg.

SCHOOL NEWS

The first month of the new school term at Grant City school has passed with a minimum number of absence and tardiness. Out of the 23 pupils enrolled, 14 boys and 9 girls, there have been 5 absent marks for the boys and 7 for the girls; 1 tardy mark for the boys and 3 for the girls.

Lucille McCracken, first grade, was unable to attend during the past week, due to illness from her recent vaccination.

Those pupils who have neither been absent nor missed any days during the month are boys: Norman Dean, Roy Hunt, William Hunt, Emmett McCormick, Patrick McCormick, Charles Rugh, Richard Stoner, Teddy Sharol, Loyal Wimer and Gaylord Wimer, and girls: Bernice Dean, Josephine Minter, Evelyn McCracken, Velma McCracken, Virginia Sharol, and Bessie Wimer.

Those who have been tardy once, but missed no days are John Dean and Helen McCormick.

The pupils and teacher plan to have a number of social events during the succeeding months as a send off for the coming good times. They held a wiener and marshmallow roast in Sharols woods Wednesday night, September 17.

The pupils turned out in full force and in addition, there were about 20 guests. However as it was necessary to get the tots to their beds at an early hour the folks attending were obliged to retire also earlier than they would otherwise have done.

There are plans afoot for a Halloween box social and spelling bee, to which the guests of the wiener roast and their friends are cordially invited to attend. Miss Williams is the teacher of the school. Watch this column for further notice.

GRANT CITY NOTES

Carving Fungi Is Unique Pastime Of Wampum Man

It was Rumpelstilchen, if we remember our Mother Goose stories correctly, who had the rare and astounding gift of being able to weave bales of straw into roomfuls of gold. It was a story that children would demand to hear time and again. It was wonderful, but of course unbelievable—just a Mother Goose tale.

Anthony Presky, of Wampum, R. D. 1, is a genius of as rare ability as Rumpelstilchen—and he is a real person, and the things he makes are real things.

Fungi are what Anthony Presky works on—irregular shaped toadstools that grow in cool lanes, clinging to fallen trees or rotting stumps. A little knife or a sharpened stick are his tools. A work of art is the result. Anthony recently presented two carved and painted fungi to John McConehy in Wampum, and the two queer looking objects have attracted great interest among the Wampum people. A printed description could not do them justice. Anthony has carved the pink-like face of one of the fungi into a woodland forest. The tree trunks stand out in relief, so that it is possible to put your hand entirely around them. Marvelously realistic deer, with heads in the air standing typically alert, stand in the woods. The deer are carved marvelously, the woodsy background exquisite. Deeper in the wilderness are several khaki clad hunters, following the trail of the deer. In the distance, between the trees, the setting sun was visible.

Title of the still drama was scribbled in a corner—Stalking Old Crooked Horns. And in another corner was a modest little "A. P."

Don't ask how he does it. Even Anthony can't explain it. It is more than concentration, imagination, skill, artistic ability. It is a combination of those and something more.

Rescue Mission To Hear A. A. MacDonald

Evangelist Who Spoke Thursday Promises To Be Present At Sunday Service

Friends of the Rescue Mission will be pleased to learn that Evangelist A. A. MacDonald, who interested a splendid attendance at the Mission on Thursday night, has promised Rev. Watkins to be with the Mission folks again on Sunday night. It is unnecessary to say that doubtless the Mission will be filled to listen to Mr. MacDonald, prominently identified as not only a forceful speaker, but lecturer in the state schools.

He will be accompanied by his wife and step-son, J. Glen Bennett. A convert of years ago under the efforts of Archie Gibson then interested in the New Castle Mission, Mr. Bennett later attended the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, and for sometime has devoted his life as an evangelist singer.

Possessing a rich baritone voice and pleasing platform personality, New Castle is urged to hear not only the interesting address of Mr. MacDonald, but also listen to the wonderful voice of Mr. Bennett who is also an expert with the trombone.

NEW CASTLE HIGH TRIMS ALIQUIPPA, 13-2

BY RUBIE GOLDBERG

NEW CASTLE LOOKS IMPRESSIVE AGAINST ALIQUIPPA ELEVEN

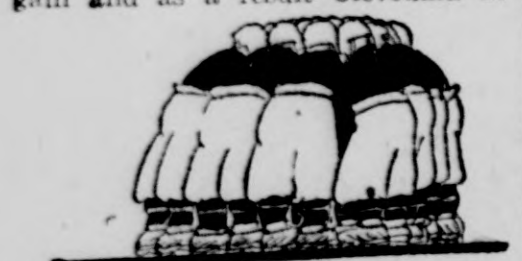

Dick Thomas At Fullback Is Outstanding Star For Bridenbaugh Machine; Aliquippa High Proves Real Opponents In Best Game So Far This Season; Visitor Score In Final Quarter On Safety; DeCarbo, Ciccone, Hoose, And Mike, Look Impressive On Line For Locals; 10,000 Fans See Game.

Playing mid-season form football, the New Castle High School football team looked impressive as it defeated a strong, fighting Aliquippa High eleven at Taggart Field on Friday night before 10,000 interested spectators. The final score was 13-2.

"Dick" Thomas playing his first game as fullback for New Castle was outstanding as he scored the two touchdowns for the local eleven. On the line Mike DeCarbo and Robert Hoose played well. Aliquippa High scored its two points in the final minutes of play when Lasky's attempt to punt was blocked, the ball rolling back of the New Castle goal line as Captain Regis McAuley fell on it, giving the visitors a safety, good for two points.

Cochin Lippe brought a team here that proved real opponents for the local red and black jerseyed warriors. The game showed that the New Castle eleven has developed steadily since the start of the season. Aliquippa High never quit trying and fought hard from the start to the finish. The visitors should be praised for their team they have this season, but Friday night a better team won.

Locals Score In First
Coach Bridenbaugh's machine came through with a touchdown in the initial quarter. After New Castle brought the ball down to the 15 yard mark the locals lost the ball on downs. Aliquippa on three plays failed to gain and as a result Cleveland attempted to kick on the 19 yard line. Mike DeCarbo broke through guard and blocked the punt as Robert Hoose fell on the piker.

Lasky and Thomas made 9 yards through right in two plays. Thomas on the next play made a first down. Dick Thomas on two attempts through the line carried the ball over the visitors' line for the first touchdown. McAuley kicked the ball through the poles on a placement kick for the extra marker. Score New Castle 7, Aliquippa 0.

The other tally was scored in the second quarter, also by Thomas. After New Castle failed to make any yardage, Andy Lasky kicked to Trobovich from the 40 yard mark to the 6 yard chalk mark where Trobovich touched the ball on a bad bound but fumbled. Ludwig Ostrosky, who had replaced Hileman earlier and fell on the ball for the red and black. After New Castle was penalized 5 yards for being off side Lasky made this yardage up through right on the next play.

On two attempts Thomas crashed the Aliquippa line for the second touchdown of the game. Captain McAuley failed to annex the extra point on a placement kick. The quarter just ended as McAuley tried for the point.

The visitors came back strong in the second half and New Castle failed to score in the final minutes of the game. Captain McAuley failed to annex the extra point on a placement kick. The quarter just ended as McAuley tried for the point.

ed to come near scoring. Aliquippa in the third quarter carried the ball to the 4 yard line only to lose it on downs. After Thomas kicked to Cleveland on the 5 yard line, Cleveland returned the punt to the 28 yard mark. The visitors led by Trobovich carried the ball to the 4 yard line where the New Castle line showed real football ability in holding the Aliquippa boys in check.

Score Safe In Final
Aliquippa scored its two points in the final minute of play. New Castle failed to gain near the 15 yard line and Lasky tried to kick out but, Aliquippa blocked the punt. The piker rolled back of the New Castle goal line where Captain McAuley fell

Thrills Galore In Contest At Taggart Field Last Night

NEW CASTLE SEIZES BREAKS OF BATTLE

About the only time a football team needs to be good is when the other fellows are touted as a trifle better. It doesn't take much of a team to win the ordinary games but when the opposition comes to town with a club that seems to have an edge, it's then that a good team shows.

And after last night's exhibition against Aliquippa, you don't need to step into the office to tell anybody that New Castle has a good team. It had to be good for Nate Lippe brought an outfit up from the valley that was primed to the edge, thirsty for gore and rarin' to go.

Made the Breaks.
Some sad soul with a penchant for alibis might croak that New Castle won the game on breaks. All of which has the merit of some truth, but according to Xenophobe or perhaps it was Knute Rockne, a good team makes its own breaks. The game was a series of breaks, but New Castle's ability to take advantage of them is the answer why the score was 13 to 2.

Blocking a punt once in a game might be luck, but anything over once rates as a habit, and New Castle blocked three of them. Further getting down under a punt fast enough to take advantage of a fumble can't be described as anything but good football and three times New Castle did this. It's a good play, punting the ball and then snaring it when the opposition fumbles it. Deserves to be developed, for it meant something like 85 yards last night and was responsible for at least one touchdown.

Immense Crowd.
The crowd was the largest one of the season and was just an indication that New Castle is following the team this year. The stadium side was filled, the bleachers were filled and a thousand or more flocked in around in the open spaces. Something over 2000 came from Aliquippa and the rest of the 10,000 came from New Castle and surrounding towns.

A real crowd, a colorful crowd and a noisy crowd, with the honors going to the kid section in the north end bleachers. They don't pay much to get in, these youngsters, but they return their admission in cheering.

During the halves the two bands, New Castle and Aliquippa, stepped out on dress parade and made a little musical whoopee for the crowd. Aliquippa's band is a natty attired one, with a drum major who has all the enthusiasm that a uniform and a band can inspire. The bands were united and drew a big hand for the first numbers.

As for the mechanics of the game itself it had a lot of potential heart failure in it. There was that forward pass that Swan picked out of the air and started down the field with. The boy was headed due north and was going places. Somewhere out of the pile Lasky appeared and Allen Riggin never made a prettier dive than he did. The dive was true and hard and Swan hit the turf like a quarter of beef dropped from a truck. Had it not been for that diving tackle, anything might have happened.

The two points made by Aliquippa on a safety were a good thing for New Castle. It probably impressed upon the squad that you can't always count your chickens before the corn is ripe. Had the game been a tie that safety would have spelled defeat. As it was it will undoubtedly act as a check on any last minute laxity.

Time of quarters—Eleven minutes.

Athletic Council Meets On Friday

Several matters of importance were discussed at the meeting of the Athletic Council which was held on Friday afternoon in the business office of the high school. F. L. Orth, president, presided.

The council decided not to continue using the broadcasting system at Taggart Field to describe the plays. This system was tried at the first two games.

Recently Thiel college officials asked the athletic council if a football game between Thiel and W. and J. could be played at Taggart Field. No action was taken. This matter will be one for action at the next meeting of the school board.

No game will be played for the benefit of the Community Chest. It was decided by the members of the Athletic Council, after discussion.

Watching 13-2 Clash Friday

Among interesting spectators who came to New Castle for the game was Principal J. Gordon Ogden of Harding High, Aliquippa, whose team went down to a 13-2 defeat at the hands of the New Castle eleven. Mrs. Ogden was there also.

That high-stepping drum major who led Harding's 50 piece band is William Burns, a junior at the school.

Harding High is the only high in Aliquippa. It is a combination senior and junior high school and has a student body of 2,000.

The visiting school's corp of cheerleaders, six of them girls, were headed by George Mergis, head cheerleader.

Perhaps the most interesting of all visitors was Nate Lippe, the Aliquippa coach. Sitting on the visitor's bench his overcoat on, minus his hat, he directed his warriors.

Covering the game for the Aliquippa Gazette, a bi-weekly, was the sheet's sports editor, Harvey Westlake.

Another visiting sportswriter who is on the school paper and also on the Gazette, was Arthur Reeves.

One of the popular members of Harding's faculty, Edward Ciriacy, of the manual training division, was present.

Cleveland, Harding right half, who missed a 40 yard kick in the last quarter, is captain of his team.

Geneva Defeats Canisius 33-7

Knapp Stars With Three Touchdowns As Harpster Crew Takes Victory

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 4.—With Johnny Knapp, Youngstown boy, running wild and scoring three touchdowns, the Geneva college football team handed Canisius a fine pasting here last night under the arc lights 33 to 7.

The Buffalo team looked good in the second quarter when they marched 50 yards for a touchdown, but after that they didn't show much. The half ended with Geneva leading 13 to 7.

Graham and Hench scored markers for the Covenanters to help Knapp, out as he was pretty well exhausted from running with the ball so often and for such long gains. Fitzpatrick scored for the visitors.

The summary:

WILL BROADCAST FROM YOUNGSTOWN

John Richie and his orchestra, popular local entertainers, will be on the air from Station WKBN in Youngstown, O., at 11 o'clock this evening, when they will be heard in an half hour program.

Play By Play Account Of New Castle Victory

First Quarter
New Castle won the toss of the coin and elected to receive and to defend the southern goal. Trobovich kicked to DeCarbo on the 20 yard line, DeCarbo returning the ball to the 33 yard mark. McAuley made two yards through left. Thomas fumbled and recovered. Lasky kicked to the 38 yard mark from the 25 yard line. As Gratsen fumbled Crisci recovered the ball for New Castle on the 37 yard line. Thomas made the first down through center. McAuley clipped through left for four yards. Thomas made four more yards through the line.

New Castle was penalized 15 yards for holding on the next play. A pass McAuley to Fabian netted 2 yards. Another pass Thomas, Lasky, to McAuley netted five yards but New Castle lost the ball on downs. Trobovich and Cleveland, failed to make any gains in three attempts through the line. Cleveland attempted to kick but DeCarbo blocked the punt as Hoose recovered for New Castle on the 19 yard mark. Lasky made 5 yards through right. Thomas made 4 more yards on a plunge. New Castle received a 5 yard penalty for being off side. McAuley made 5 yards through left end.

Thomas acquired 4 yards through center, and a first down. Ciccone replaced Jamison at this time for New Castle. Thomas on two attempts through the line carried the ball over the Aliquippa line for the first touchdown. McAuley made good a placement kick for the try for the extra point. Score, New Castle 7; Aliquippa 0.

Cable news from Glasgow says that distillers have cut the output of Scotch whisky this summer but it might also be stated that cutting the output is nothing to the cutting in gets on arriving here.—The St. Louis Times.

The Edinboro boys put up a great battle against Westminster, holding the United Presbyterians to a 19 to 12 count. Coach Crum has a likely looking squad ready at Allegheny for the invasion of the "Sox" Harrison crew.

Grove City college won another victory last night at Farrell by defeating St. Francis 21 to 0. The game was played under the flood lights. It begins to look as if the Groves have a powerful scoring outfit this year. That makes 111 points in two games. That makes the Layden coached Grove City meet John Carroll at Cleveland next week.

Duquesne university had another "breather" last night and hung up a 38 to 0 defeat on Detroit Tech. The Michigan boys were plainly not in a class with the Layden coached team. The Ducks' touchdowns were fairly well divided with Pawlina, Kovalchek, Todd, Seps, Pratt and Devinney scoring. DeCarbo, former New Castle boy, was a sub for the Ducks.

The Geneva team showed a lot of strength last night at Reeves field, Beaver Falls, by whipping the Canisius eleven 33 to 7. It was a good game despite the lopsided score. The Buffalo team led for a time in the second quarter. Knapp was the big star for the Harpster coached team making three touchdowns. Graham, Fitzpatrick and Hench also tallied.

Allegheny and Edinboro are having their little fuss up at Meadville this afternoon, and they were not so cocksure that they would take the measure of the Teachers. Last week

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Despite the loss of two straight world series games the Cardinals are reported optimistic of their chance to take today's game with the Athletics at St. Louis. Bill Hallahan will hurl for the Redbirds and Wilson will catch, replacing Mancuso. Grove or Walberg will hurl for the Athletics.

Two mechanics will have considerable to do with the outcome of the Billy Arnold-Deacon Litz match race at Altoona, October 11. Cotton Henning, just back from Europe will help Shorty Barnes in Litz pit. Cliff Woodbury has been picked to head Arnold's pit crew.

Westminster will play W and J at Washington, Pa. Rush is out of the President's lineup.

Geneva handed a nice jolt to Canisius last night at Beaver Falls. The score was 33-7. Knapp played an outstanding game for Geneva.

Scienceville Trips Union
Union High Team Plays Fine Game, But Loses To Scienceville 13 To 6

Union high school football team ran into a stiff foe yesterday afternoon at Scienceville, Ohio, and had to be content with a 13 to 6 defeat. The winners outweighed the locals several pounds to the man. Union played fine football, but failed to get the "breaks."

The first quarter was hard fought with neither team able to negotiate the goal-line. Scienceville was unable to gain consistently and were forced to kick often. Union likewise couldn't do much through the big Scienceville line.

The Scienceville team tallied their minutes of the second half, when after a steady march down the field with short gains, around end and off tackle thrusts then Lubonic crashes through for a touchdown, and Herald hits the line for the extra-point and makes it. The first half ended 7 to 0 in favor of the Ohio boys.

Union was unable to halt the Scienceville forward passing attack and Dusenberry went over for the second touchdown. The kick for an extra-point was blocked.

The Union touchdown came when Union received the ball on an exchange of punts and gained possession of the ball on the 30-yard line. A pass Jaworski to Latimer, gained 15 yards, Augustyn and Zaremba made it first down for Union. Augustyn hits center for four more yards, and then Monico slips over for the touchdown. Zaremba attempted a drop-kick for the extra-point but it failed. The game ended shortly after the kickoff following the Union touchdown.

P. R. R. Title Game Carded For Today

Two baseball teams of the Pennsylvania railroad were expected to take the field against one another at Altoona this afternoon for the third and deciding game for the system championship, according to news received here today.

One aggregation will represent the Fort Wayne, Ind. team and the other the Long Island Railroad club. The championship is one of the annual features of the Pennsylvania's athletic program.

Cardinals Are Going To Fight For Third Game

Bill Hallahan, Star Southpaw Will Go Against Athletics Today

WALBERG OR SHORES FOR PHILADELPHIA

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—"Not Liked yet."

That was the attitude today of the St. Louis Cardinals, "underdogs" in the current World Series, as they grimly prepared to do battle with the high-riding Philadelphia Athletics at their own Sportsman's Park this afternoon.

"We are going to apply the brakes," declared Gabby Street, manager of the skidding Red Birds. And the fans in this "show me" state of Missouri evidently think they can. For droves of loyal supporters from miles around have flocked into this busy metropolis by train and automobile to see the Cards "go" this afternoon.

Hotels Jammed
Every hotel in town is jammed with visitors. These Missourians have got to be "shown." They will be out there at the ball grounds this afternoon 35,000 strong to root for the home team.

St. Louis honestly thinks "Bill" Hallahan, the Cards' star southpaw "smoke ball" pitcher will stop the A's. Even if Manager Connie Mack shoots "Lefty" Grove back at them. But the experts are not looking for Grove today. They believe Mack, having the Red Birds two down, will gamble a bit and send either "Bill" Shores, a strong right-hander or "Rube" Walberg, a fast left hander to the mound.

But if you imagine the A's are worrying about Hallahan, or the ultimate outcome of this series, you have guessed wrong.

"We expect to end the World Series right here in St. Louis," Jimmy Dykes, crack third baseman of the A's told International News Service in a little private "fanning bee."

Macks Confident
Other members of the A's who happened to be within ear shot, heartily concurred in this view.

I found Dykes reclining in a chair on the lawn of the Kingsway Hotel, out in the western part of the town, far away from the milling throngs in the lobbies of the downtown hotels. This is where the A's are quartered. Most of the Cardinals were at their homes scattered about the city.

"If Grove goes in there it will be a cinch," Dykes predicted, speaking of today's game. "He is the fastest pitcher I have ever seen in my thirteen seasons with the A's—bar none. Why, he wasn't right when he beat the Cards the other day. Wait till he starts pouring them across the plate as only he can pour 'em."

Dykes was asked to compare the Chicago Cubs whom the A's beat four out of five games in 1929 World Series.

"The Cubs packed a better punch," was Dykes' succinct reply. "Wilson, Cuyler and Stephenson were tough babies up there at the plate. Of course, the Cards have been losing to us and a losing club never looks good. We have lots of respect for them. Don't think we are going to let ourselves get over confident. That would be one way to 'blow' this series. You can't bank on anything in baseball."

Shenango Team Defeated, 18-6

New Wilmington Rallies To Down Township Eleven
In Final Quarter

SHENANGO SCORES ON 90-YARD RUN

A fighting Shenango high school eleven, leading by a touchdown at the opening of the third quarter of the game, was finally overpowered during the second half of play by its New Wilmington high opponents at the Shenango field, Friday afternoon. The final score stood 18-6 in the college boys' favor.

Reas Arnold, fleet-footed left half for Shenango scored his team's only touchdown in the middle of the second period when he galloped 90 yards down the right hand side of the field and across the goal. New Wilmington's scores came in the third and final quarters.

Shenango's fumble on their 40-yard line right after the start of the third stanza proved a costly one, for New Wilmington recovered and after a few line bucks and dashes around end crossed the goal line to tie the score. From then on New Wilmington seemed to have advantage, and twice during the fourth quarter duplicated their scoring act. Davis made the first touchdown while K. Myers scored the last two for New Wilmington.

Backfields of both Coach Johnson and Delahanty's teams seemed to charge at will through the defensive lines. Seldom were the onrushes of the opposing ball carriers stopped before they had gained at least a few yards. Toward the close of the game New Wilmington strengthened and held Shenango in middle field, except in the final moments when the losers advanced the piskin to within the shadow of their opponents' goal post. The final whistle blew as Shenango had possession of the ball about a foot away from the goal.

Substitutes were injected into the game all during the fray, the coaches preferring to save their best men as much as possible. Several hundred witnessed the game.

The summary:

New Wilmington 18—Shenango 6

Spying On Sports

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Sports Editor

The world series, the annual hysteria which acts as the dramatic climax of the diamond season, this year will leave plenty of fat for the stove league fan to fry.

Throughout the football season you may expect baseball to keep popping up on the sport pages as many current questions are answered.

Some of the fuel that will keep the old baseball base burner aglow with interest are:

1. Will Joe McCarthy manage the 1931 Yankees?
2. Who will succeed Heinie Wagner as Red Sox pilot?
3. Will Jim Bottomley be traded by the Cards to the Cubs?
4. Will Hack Wilson and other Cubs enjoy a change of climate?
5. What trades and purchases will Rogers Hornsby make to give Mr. Wrigley that winning club he "must have"?
6. What club will succeed in landing Joe Hauser, the demon Baltimore home run hitter?
7. Will the major leagues consent to a trial of night baseball, possibly at St. Louis.
8. And what about the great draft war?

That draft war business between the majors and minors, lulled into the background by the great National League race and the world series, is bound to be big stuff in a news way long before another season rolls around.

Yep, let the blizzards blow, ye ball fan will be quite snug this winter up to his ears in arguments.

Dr. Helling Speaks To Kiwanians Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—Lieutenant governor Dr. H. E. Helling will address the local Kiwanians at their dinner meeting in the Trinity Lutheran church Monday night. His talk will concern the outline of work for the year.

INSTALLATION POSTPONED
ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—Officers were not installed by the members of the Dames of Malta at their meeting in the Schweiger hall last night, on account of sickness of some of the members.
The Dames conducted their regular lodge meeting and were dismissed.

Rings And Money Are Taken, Police Search For Thief

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—Two diamond rings valued at $500 apiece were taken from the home of John A. Evans of Pittsburgh Circle Thursday night, and a box of pennies which Mrs. Evans kept in a box for missions. On the same night a robbery was discovered at the home of Dr. Harry Davis of Fifth street. Here it is believed that money to the amount of $100 was taken.

Police are working on the case and have taken footprints as well as fingerprints which they discovered on the window sills of the homes where the robberies were made.

Two Lone Scouts Hike To Country

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—Other members of the Methodist Episcopal troop of Boy Scouts did not hike but that did not deter the two enthusiasts, Walter Maxwell and Charles Clarke, from continuing their plans. They had donned their suits, hitched their knapsacks and blankets securely on their backs and with their walking sticks, were all set to go places.

But no one showed up. Their scoutmaster had not been notified to change his plans for the hike, and the other boys had decided to do something else.

But not so these lads. They were ready, and together they fell in step and on and they marched toward the Ellwood Country club, where they found firewood and made a glowing fire over which they toasted supper. Later, under the cold white moon and twinkling stars these lads found shelter for the night wrapped in heavy blankets.

Sons Of Veterans Auxiliary Meets

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—At the regular meeting of Sons of Veterans auxiliary in lodge rooms in Lawrence avenue last night, officers were nominated for the new year, to be elected at the next meeting.

Card games in charge of Mrs. William Wimer followed the regular session with prizes for both men and women. Playing bridge, euchre and five hundred.

Mrs. E. B. Baker was awarded favor for high score in bridge. In five hundred, T. V. Barnes and Arthur Duncan were high for the men. Mrs. Wm. Wimer and G. W. Boggs, were awarded favors for scores in euchre.

Home Dance Honors Birthday Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—About 70 friends of Miss Charlotte Kaufman assembled at her home last night to surprise her on her sixteenth birthday. Dancing in the spacious living room and porch were the chief diversions, until a late hour when the delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. A. R. Kaufman assisted by Mrs. Wm. Grant.

The guest of honor was the recipient of a number of lovely gifts. The large white cake bearing glowing tapers was the work of art produced by Mildred Keisling, a cousin.

Auto Dealers Off To Convention

President A. C. McCoy, Secretary Ray F. Hall, and James P. Cope of the New Castle Auto Dealers Association will leave for Sunday for Reading, Pa., where they will attend the 1930 convention of the Pennsylvania Automotive Association.

The delegates representing the association will extend an invitation to the association to hold their 1931 convention in New Castle, and have been practically assured that it will meet here next year.

Hemphill To Come To City

Conference Here On Friday To Arrange For Visit Of Candidate

JOSEPH F. GUFFEY ATTENDS MEETING

At an informal conference held here Friday afternoon in the office of Attorney W. J. Baer, chairman of the Democratic county committee, and in which a number of prominent local Democratic leaders participated, the former Democratic National Committeeman Joseph F. Guffey of Pittsburgh, plans were made for the visit of John M. Hemphill, Democratic candidate for governor, in this city in the near future and also for the carrying on here of an active campaign in Lawrence county in the interests of the entire Democratic ticket.

The visit of Hemphill to this city will be made in connection with his tour of the western Pennsylvania district and he will be in the city in the immediate future, according to tentative plans made by the local leaders while Mr. Guffey was present.

Mr. Guffey went from here in the early evening to Butler, where he planned to hold a conference with the Democratic leaders of Butler county.

Those participating in the conference included Attorney W. J. Baer, chairman of the Democratic county committee; Former Judge J. Norman Martin, Hoyce P. Stone, Frank Sparano, F. G. Peebles, Thomas F. Maher, William J. Eroe Jr., J. Myron Rice, Harry Turner, B. F. Thorn, Charles Bohn, Joseph Hahn and R. H. Wilson.

Following the conference with local leaders, former National Committeeman Joseph F. Guffey made the following statement:

"The principal object of my visit here was to bring a message of good cheer to the local organization. We are winning this battle, which promises to be one of the greatest the state has ever known."

"The local conference discussed the features of the campaign, with particular stress being laid on the fact that the present movement is a coalition of citizens and our victory will be won on that alignment.

"Pinchot we now have on the defensive. He is evading, a fact already recognized by the people of the state, and in his attempt to place machine politics at his back, appears in an entirely different role than that of the primary fight."

"While maintaining a complete organization in the state, the Democratic party has no state machine such as Mr. Pinchot is now trying to whip into the line of his support."

"The Democratic party will urge voters to give the fullest consideration to its platform, a thoroughly sound and complete document which will appeal to every voter. Our state ticket, headed by John M. Hemphill for governor, is one of the finest ever presented to the voters of the state and will stand all tests. Hemphill will draw many soldier votes, as his record overseas not only was splendid, but was of the heroic order."

Alford Recounts Local Progress

Resides On Same Farm For 74 Years—Tells Of Improvements Of Years

S. S. Alford, R. D. No. 6, Box 100, whose home is a mile west of Princeton, is a native of Lawrence county and has spent his entire life within its limits.

On October 10th, he will be 74 years of age, and while a visitor in the office of The News, on Friday afternoon, he recalled many things of interest, including the fact that many was the time that he had hauled Fred L. Rentz, president of The News company, into school, as he was enroute into this city with his huckster wagon loaded with products of the farm for sale here.

This caused him to be reminiscent and to remark on the progress that has been made during the course of his rather long life.

He never expected, he said, in those days of his huckstering experience, when he gave Mr. Rentz a lift, that there would be the wonderful improved road that now leads past his home into this city. Then it took hours to get into the city, now you can make the trip into the city in about ten minutes, if you have a car.

And that is not all, he said, they are now flying over his home almost every day. It is a little over a year ago, he recalled, since a Goodyear Blimp hovered over his home for some time, being in trouble and he thought for a time that it was going to land on his property.

Mr. Alford resides on the same farm on which he was born but in a different home.

Foil Attempt To Steal Gasoline

Answering a call from the Hileman Apartments about one o'clock this morning to the effect that some one was stealing gasoline from a car of a tenant of that place, Officers Lockard and Dukes arrived in time to see two young men disappear down over the hill into the hollow between Jefferson and Mercer streets. They searched the district carefully but were unable to find the young men.

They discovered, however, an old Ford bearing license 5AN88 in the vicinity, with its radiator still warm and the gasoline tank empty. In it were found some school books in which they found the name of the owner. The car was placed in a garage and an investigation is underway in the matter.

It is believed that the car belonged to some young man attending school and that they had run out of gasoline while driving about and had tried to get some from the car at which they were working when frightened away.
